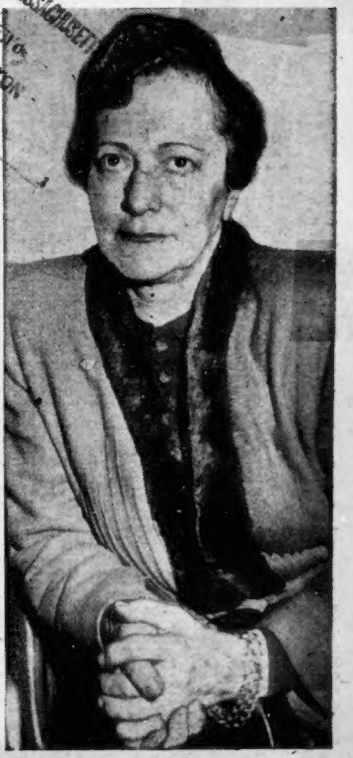
FEAR 34 LOST IN CRASH OF ARMY PLANE

STORY ON PAGE 2

STATE HOUSE, BOSTON
DEC 11 1947



Their Custody Sought—Elisha Hubbard, 10, and his sister, Edith, 14, central figures in an $80,000,000 custody battle between Muriel McCormick Hubbard (at right), and her brother, Fowler McCormick, are staying in Evanston, Ill., while the court drama extends from Massachusetts to Florida and Chicago. Depositions are being taken in Hartford, Ct., from employes and friends of Muriel, former WAC, who adopted the children in 1939. The scene will then shift to Deerfield, where the children attended school. Story on Page 3.

Giant Army Plane In Labrador Crash

A huge Army C-54 transport plane with at least five crewmen aboard crashed in snowy scrublands about midnight eight miles north of the Goose Bay airfield in Labrador. Officials at Westover Field said an observation plane had reported "no known survivors" after sighting "scattered burning wreckage."

Nevertheless, Westover officials seeded preparations for rescue of possible survivors with a helicopter. It was pointed out that the Ninth Air Force reconnaisance plane which observed the wreckage was hampered by stormy weather. Army officers said it was possible that some of the wrecked plane's crew might be alive but unconscious.

The big plane was capable of carrying 40, but Westover Field sokesmen said it was "possible" the craft carried only its normal crew of five and cargo.

Ground rescue crew set out by dogsled at daybreak from Goose Bay, but faced rough and slow going over the rugged country-side to the almost inaccessible wilderness where the plane went down.

First reports indicated there were "signs of survivors," but after the report of the observation plane's crew this was amended to "no known survivors."

Goose Bay radioed to Army Transport Command headquarters at Westover Field, "Weather preventing observation of progress of ground parties and wreckage."

Later, the radio report added: "Reconnaissance disclosed scattered, burning wreckage eight and a half miles from the field."

DOG SLEDS ON WAY

While dog sled crews mushed through the wid scrublands to the scene—a journey which Goose Bay sportsmen said might take "hours or days"—an air rescue unit was readied at Westover Field.

A helicopter was dismantled there and the start of the mercy flight awaited only the arrival of a giant C-82 "flying boxcar" transport.

Two of these C-82 transports were on their way to Westover. One was sent from Patterson Field, Dayton, O., another from Paterson, N. J. The flight from

EARTH NEARS TAIL OF NEW COMET

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 10 (AP)—Dr. Richard Woolley, director of the Commonwealth observatory in Canberra, said today it was possible that the earth would pass through the 40-million-mile tail of a strange new comet which has flamed across the southern skies for the past two nights.

"Observations in the next faw days will show if and when this can be expected," Wooley said. "If it occurs, there will be a harmless but spectacular shower of meteorites."

(The earth passed through 1861, according to the Encyclothe tail of the great comet of paedia Britannica, but no phenomenon was noticeable "beyond the diffused glare.")

He said he had observed the comet at 8:22 p. m. Tuesday at 18 hours, 5.3 minutes right ascension. The declination was 35 degrees, nine minutes south and the magnitude 1.5. Wooley said the tail of the comet extended over 10 degrees and he estimated its length at between 40 and 50 million miles.

Inside Story of Soviet Buying Panic!

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Dec. 10 (AP)—The newspaper Morgontidningen published today a story by its Moscow correspondent saying that a buying panic hit the Russian capital and other Soviet cities in the last days of November and that by Dec. 8 all stores had been virtually stripped. The correspondent, Birger Lundberg, now is in Helsinki on his way home. His copyrighted story declared that the buying rush was caused by a rumor that the Soviet government intended to exchange paper money soon—Dec. 15 was the date he said "informed" persons gave him—and at the same time abolish rationing.

He said Russian citizens feared their paper rubles might be rendered worthless in the exchange.

(George Malenkov, a member of the Politburo in Moscow, said in a report yesterday that conditions had been created for the "abolition during this year of rationing in the Soviet Union."

(The Malenkov report added that "the Soviet state already has carried out a series of measures for abolishing multiplicity of prices with the purpose of preparation for the end of rationing." The report, published in Pravda, did not explain what the measures were).

Lundberg's story said the buying panic hit Moscow on Nov. 29 when residents stormed jewelry and fur shops and the city's biggest department store, buying "all they could get, valuables, fur coats, pianos, furniture."

He said the department store closed "due to repairs" the next day and other shops closed for "stock taking."

(On Dec. 4, U. S. Undersecretary of State Lovett told a Senate committee that something "in the nature of panic buying" had hit Russia. He attributed it to rumors of impending price increases and devaluation of the ruble. He said there were heavy runs on banks.

(Reports in Washington, by sources in a position to know, also mentioned the closing of one of Moscow's principal department stores "for repairs" and of other shops for "inventory.")

Lundberg said the Russian buyers took anything they could buy, food, vodka, caviar and fruit. Farmers, he said, withheld perishable food from the market and sent prices for eggs, butter and meat still higher.

"It was a remarkable spectacle to witness how mere rumor from mouth to mouth could create a panic unequalled in the 30-year-history of the revolution and how the well-disciplined press pretended not to know what was happening while Moscow's shops were raked bare of goods," he added.

4 'Snowdrop' Army Officers Die in Fire

PINE CAMP, N. Y., Dec. 10 (AP)—Four U. S. Army officers assigned to "exercise snowdrop" were burned to death early today in a fire which quickly destroyed a two-story frame barracks at this northern New York military reservation.

The death toll rose from three to four with recovery of the body of an officer who had been reported missing.

Lt. Robert Banker, public relations officer, said six other officers were burned, one critically, and eight others leaped to safety from the flaming structure. He estimated 18 officers were housed in the building.

Banker reported the dead were officers of "company grade," but advised identification would be withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Five of the injured officers were being prepared for evacuation by plane to Murphy General Hospital at Waltham, Mass. Banker said the critically burned officer probably would remain at the camp hospital because of his condition.

The bodies of the dead were burned beyond recognition, and were recovered about 7:30 a. m. in the debris. The blaze was discovered about 2:30 a. m.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

The officers who escaped leaped from first and second story windows of the barracks.

The Army's winter airborne maneuvers, Exercise Snowdrop, began here Nov. 1.

SEN. CHARLES TOBEY

Tobey Pledges Oil Quiz Action Within 24 Hours

A special oil industry committee to seek a solution to New England's fuel crisis was promised within 24 hours today by Sen. Tobey (R.) of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate subcommittee investigating the country's fuel situation.

He indicated, on the basis of testimony of oil men, transport officials and Senators, that the subcommittee would recommend action to Congress.

This decision followed an interchange of opinion on the cause of New England's shortage by Gov. Bradford and former State Fuel Administrator Edawrd P. Barry.

Gov. Bradford charged in Washington that the present crisis in New England was due to bottlenecks in supply.

Barry placed the blame for the shortage on the Governor himself.

He charged that Gov. Bradford, instead of attempting to solve the fuel problem, was playing politics.

Stating that he had warned him by letter of the approaching shortage several times, Barry added that as late as last June he had suggested to him the appointment of a committee to arrange a winter fuel plan.

AGENCY PROPOSED

In Washington, Gov. Bradford told the hearing that the shortage could be eased if Congress passed a bill to free fuel supplies from anti-trust laws and set up under federal supervision an agency to allocate supplies in emergencies.

Senators investigating the problem heard a succession of witnesses blame alleged bottlenecks, especially in transportation, but failed to reach agreement on which one was principally responsible.

An oil spokesman thought a solution would be found by employing additional tankers and tank cars.

Gov. Bradford pointed out that New England was farthest from supply sources and at the end of transportation lines, and in view of her severe winter required special consideration.

ASK FOR TANKERS

M. J. Rathbone, president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, agreed that transportation was the bottleneck at present but thought if that was solved, a crude oil shortage might take its place.

He said if his company could have five more tankers—they have been given one by the Maritime Commission—he believed he could avert shortages in New England in January, February and March.

Battle Over 2 Heirs To 80 Millions Shifts to N. E.

FOWLER McCORMICK

HARTFORD, Ct., Dec. 10—New England today became the center of the $80,000,000 custody battle between Fowler McCormick, 48, and his sister, Muriel McCormick Hubbard, 45, over two foundlings adopted by the latter and scheduled some day to share in the Rockefeller-McCormick millions. In an ever-shifting scene, the locale is scheduled to move to Massachusetts and then to Tarrytown, N. Y., and Florida before a climactic finale in the courts of Chicago.

The first round saw depositions taken here today from employes and acquaintances of Muriel, heiress and former WAC, who in 1939 adopted Edith, now 14, and Elisha Hubbard, now 10 and brought them to live at Lone Tree Farm, her estate in nearby Middletown.

Mrs. Anne S. McCormick

Deposition are being taken under order of Cook County Superior Court, Chicago.

CLAIMS OPPOSITION

In habeas corpus action before Chicago Superior Judge John Sbarboro, Muriel charges that Fowler tried to hinder the adoptions, with "some thought" to the inheritance she is to receive from trusts of her late grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, and her late parents, Harold F. and Edith Rockefeller McCormick.

Muriel and Fowler are heirs to about $40,000,000 each.

The next round in the nationwide fight will take place at Deerfield, Mass., where the Hubbard youngsters attended a fashionable school. The scene then moves to Tarrytown, N. Y., and Florida before the main bout in Chicago.

First to give a deposition here was Gunnar Hyman, handyman at the 440-acre Lone Tree Farm back in the days when Muriel's husband, the late Maj. Elisha Dwyer Hubbard, World War I hero, was alive.

DYING WISH

The couple never had children, and it was reportedly to satisfy a dying wish of the major that Muriel adopted Edith and Elisha at the Children's Center, Hartford.

In her action, Muriel says she is preparing to make the two children sole heirs to her fortune. Fowler, his wife, Mrs. Anne (Fifi) Stillman McCormick, and her aunt, Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine, object, she says.

The children were adopted three years after Maj. Hubbard's death.

When the WAC was organized, Fowler allegedly claimed he was too busy to take over guardianship of the youngsters, but Muriel enlisted anyway by resigning guardianship and having the court appoint Mrs. Alvira Parsons, a British refugee, as housekeeper.

In April, 1944, Fowler began action to take custody in Middletown Probate Court, but in March of the same year Dr. Frances M. Clarke, 44 of Durham, N. C., a school teacher, was appointed guardian by Muriel's newest move.

In earlier Chicago testimony it was charged Mrs. Blaine offered Mrs. Parsons, guardian while Muriel was in the WAC, $7500 to resign.

It was but a short time after this phase that Mrs. Fifi McCormick wrote a series of letters to War Department heads implying that Muriel was a psychiatric case. The latter says the letters caused her trouble and barred her from officer candidate school.

After still another fight in the long, drawn-out battle by Fowler, the court supplanted Dr. Clarke with Mrs. Grace Bement, head of a Deerfield school, as guardian. This was prior to the custody award granted to Fowler.

Mrs. Fifi McCormick has admitted her dislike for Muriel, saying it dates back to 1919 when they met in Switzerland.

Muriel charges Fowler and his wife have "no interest" in the children and that the battle is due to an intense hatred toward her by the couple and Mrs. Blaine.

On June 24, 1946, Fowler obtained custody and allegedly farmed out the youngsters to an Evanston, Ill., couple, Charles and Louise Hardin.

The trial is scheduled to resume in Chicago about Jan. 12 after all depositions are taken.

2 Flivver Fliers End Global Tour in N. J.

TETERBORO, N. J., Dec. 10 (AP)—Cliff Evans and George Truman landed their two pint-sized, 100-horsepower flivver planes at Teterboro Airport at 10:10 a. m. today, ending a leosurely 25,000-mile globe-circling flight unique in the history of aviation.

The two former Army pilots came in as casually as they departed from this suburban commercial airport on Aug. 9. They had flown around the earth in 123 days to show it could be done in a little fabric-covered aircraft with a crusing speed of 105 miles per hour.

Evans came in first, touching the runway a few seconds ahead of Truman.

The flags of 23 nations and various insigna gathered at each of their 49 stops were painted on the sides of each of the tiny planes, smallest ever to cross the oceans and circle the globe.

Beneath each flag was the name of a leading person in that country, including that of Pope Pius XII.

Evans, 27, flew "The City of Angels," named after his native Los Angeles. Truman, 39, made the flight in "The City of Washington," named for his home town of Washington, D. C.

Awaiting the two fliers were a civic reception and a press conference at Taterboro and then a trip by motor, under police escort, to New York city for a greeting by Mayor O'Dwyer.

The two planes taxied side by side to the reviewing stand from which their two wives rushed out to greet them.

The wives flung open the doors of the cabins and Evans and Truman found themselves heartily kissed even before they had time to take off their radio gear.

Doris Flying to Join Latin Hubby, Sues Ex

NEW YORK, Dec. 10—Doris Duke Rubirosa was to plane off for Argentina today to rejoin her Porfirio, the Dominican ambasador, after a whirlwind visit in which she bought a $30,000 B-25 to tote furnishings for the embassy, and gave the back of her bejeweled hand to ex-husband James H. R. Cromwell, by asking New Jersey to throw out his suit for an absolute divorce.

Doris filed a countersuit in which she pointed out she won the divorce—in Reno—and New Jersey is the only state which hasn't got around to recognizing it. When she and Cromwell broke up in 1940, it was by mutual agreement and not desertion on her part as Cromwell claims, she insisted.

There had been rumors here the 34-year-old tobacco heiress had been having a little trouble with her Latin husband, even at this early stage—but her shopping trips around town were not those of a bride in woe.

Her new plane will carry family silver, luxurious linens and costly furniture to brighten Porfirio's embassy in Buenos Aires. After the plane serves as a cargo carrier it will be fixed up to accommodate any flying whims "Ruby" or Doris may have.

So far as Cromwell is concerned, in the eyes of New Jersey, he holds a "limited" divorce, which is like a New York separation, and he can't remarry in New Jersey unless he wins an absolute decree. Under the present situation, he would be entitled to half of Doris' vast realty assets in New Jersey if she should die.

The absolute decree he seeks would disqualify him as her heir in that respect. That art of it is all right with Doris but her feminine logic is that inasmuch as her Reno divorce is valid in 47 states, why doesn't New Jersey get in line and dismiss Cromwell's suit?

LORD HEMINGFORD DIES, 72

WATFORD, Eng., Dec. 10 (AP)—Lord Hemingford, 72, former deputy speaker of the House of Commons, died today.

Snowstorm Due In Hub Tonight

Following the stormy northwest blast which ripped through Boston with gusts up to 54 miles an hour, the weather bureau today forecast a switch back to snow.

The fall will begin after midnight, the bureau said, and cover most of New England. The forecaster was uncertain what depth was to be expected. A change in wind could bring the snow a few hours earlier, he added.

The weather today will continue clear, but cold, with highest temperature about 35 degrees, the forecaster said. Wind force will be around 20 miles an hour, diminishing late tonight with the approach of snow.

House Lining Up To Make Big Cut In Aid to Europe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—House Majority Leader Halleck lined up today with other Republicans demanding a cut in the Administration's $597,000,000 winter aid bill for Western Europe.

Coming on top of reports that GOP leaders in the House had agreed informally to chop the sum to $500,000,000, the Indianan's stand made it almost certain that the measure would be trimmed—perhaps substantially—before passage late today or tomorrow.

Coupled with House-approved amendments yesterday designed to make President Truman responsible for easing the effect of relief buying on U. S. prices and supplies, any large slash would confront a Senate-House conference committee with two vastly different bills.

Chairman Taber (R.) of New York, of the House appropriations committee, previously had described the $590,000,000 as too liberal. Taber's committee now is writing a bill making the actual appropriation to carry out the program set up in the aid legislation.

One amendment awaiting consideration would lop $290,000,000 from the bill. Drafted by Rep. Jonkman (R.) of Michigan, of the foreign affairs committee, it was given little chance.

Other amendments pending for the fifth day of debate would transfer administration of the foreign aid to the United Nations—a proposal rejected by the Senate—and prohibit the export of grains to nations using grain to manufacture beer or other alhoholic beverages.

British Tap U. S. Loan Fund for 100 Million

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Britain has drawn $100,000,000 more from its newly unfrozen loan from the United States, leaving it only $300,000,000 of the original $3,750,000,000 credit the Treasury disclosed today.

It was the first time Britain has used any of the money since late August. At that time the remaining balance of $400,000,000 was frozen temporarily because of Britain's inability to meet certain terms of the loan agreement, made in July, 1946.

These terms required the British to pay current trade debts to other countries in dollars instead of pounds when the other countries asked payment in dollars.

The freeze was lifted this week despite Britain's continued inability to meet strictly that condition of the loan.

Britain's Chancellor of the Echequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, promised that Britain would resume dollar payment of trade debts to other countries as soon as possible.

New Explosions in Holy Land; Arab Mayor Begs For Truce

By BENN FELLER

JERUSALEM, Dec. 10 (INS)—Explosions, stabbings and gunfire erupted again in Palestine today in the midst of peace appeals by the British High Commissioner and the Arab mayor of embattled Jaffa. Fires raged in Haifa's main business district after two heavy explosions accompanied by prolonged machine gun and rifle fire.

Eight persons, and perhaps 11, were reported killed and others wounded in stabibngs and shootings in Jerusalem, Haifa and other areas.

British High Comr. Lt.-Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham told both Arabs and Jews that fighting must cease over the UN partition plan, which the Arabs oppose.

He warned that British troops would use severe measures against all law-breakers.

"SHOOT AT SIGHT"

Dr. Yussuf Haikal, the Moslem mayor of Jaffa, sent a letter by armored car to Mayor Israel Rokach of the neighboring all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv urging a truce.

British troops with "shoot at sight" orders enforced a curfew over the bloody no-man's land in the inter-city border areas last night.

Haikal urged a meeting with Rokach to map plans whereby both Arab and Jewish fighters could be fettered. He said the batles and the resultant British curfew were disastrous to life, property and the general welfare of the two cities.

FEAR FOO DRIOTS

Jaffa is suffering from an acute supply shortage due to the fighting and last week's three-day Arab general strike. New food riots are feared.

The Jewish agency openly accused the British of wanton killings of members of Haganah, the Zionist militia. It specifically cited the killing of Jacob Shiff Saturday and of Gedalia Harari today.

Angered Jews attacked British armored police cars yesterday due to these charges.

The harassed British were targets for both sides, however. Arabs attacked a British policeman at the Jaffa gate in Jerusalem today, critically wounding him with daggers and stealing his rifle.

Florida Court Affirms Attack Life Sentence

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 10 (AP)—A victim of rape "is not called on to look up a doctor and submit to an examination" to prove her accusations, the Florida Supreme Court ruled.

In a 4-3 decision, it affirmed the life sentence of Howard B. McKee for raping a woman in Dade County last year. McKee's attorneys contended evidence was insufficient to warrant the conviction and complained that the alleged victim had refused to submit to a medical examination.

Dispute Delays Typo Union Case

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 10 (AP)—The nation-wide labor law case against the AFL International Typographical Union (ITU) has been delayed by a disagreement over the proper way to accuse the union of refusing to bargain in good faith with newspaper publishers.

It will be resumed Dec. 19 in Washington before Arthur Leff, trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board. Leff adjourned the hearing here yesterday before it was one day old.

Three associations of newspaper publishers and Robert N. Denham, NLRB general counsel, charge the union with unfair labor practices under the Taft-Hartley Act. They are asking the five-man NLRB to order ITU to stop these practices.

Trio Compete In Boston for History Crown

In historic Faneuil Hall, Boston's top three history students competed today for national honors in the finals of the Fifth Annual Hearst Newspapers National American History Awards.

Promptly at 10 a. m. the sealed envelopes containing the questions was opened and the contestants began the tests which lasted more than two hours. Besides questions based on American history, the students were required to write a 500-word essay on a historic subject.

The contestants are eligible to win prizes totaling $6000 in addition to the nation's history crown. First prize is $2000.

Similar exams were being held today in 12 other cities throughout the nation.

Local contestants vieing for honors are Joan M. Butler, 16, of 164 Dorchester st., South Boston, senior at St. Augustine High; Mary King, 17, of 33 Newport st., Dorchester, senior at St. Margaret's High, and Claus D. Gossels, 17, of 31 Clarkwood st., Dorchester, senior at Public Latin School.

These students topped the local elimination contest sponsored by the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser.

Their papers will be sent to New York, and a board of judges composed of nationally known historians and educators will judge all papers submitted.

Negro as Mississippi Juror Unlikely at Murder Retrial

MERIDIAN, Miss., Dec. 10 (AP)—Lauderdale County Atty. W. L. Clayton says there is little chance there will be any Negroes on the jury which will try Eddie (Buster) Patton here in February on a charge he slew a white man.

The Negro's earlier conviction was reversed Monday by the U. S. Supreme Court on the ground racial discrimination kept Negroes off the jury which convicted him.

Clayton said it was probable the county supervisors would include the names of Negroes on the prospective jury list but the chances of any of them serving on a jury is slight.

The qualifications for a juror, he said, are that he must:

1—Be a qualified elector.

2—Have paid poll tax for the past two years.

3—Not have been convicted of selling liquor in the past five years.

4—Not have been convicted of any "infamous" crime.

One or more of these requirements will disqualify most Negroes in Lauderdale County, he said.

Those not qualified, he said, probably can be removed by the challenges which allow the State to remove that number of men from any jury.

Patton is charged with slaying J. M. Meadows, a night club operator.

Irwin Hunt Shifts, Believed Held Captive in Concord

Police investigating the disappearance of Eugene P. Irwin, Jr., 32-year-old Dorchester auto dealer, headed for Concord today with a Farmington, Me., dealer, whose information has led them to suspect Irwin may be held captive in that area, or murdered for the $7000 he had with him, and buried in an out-of-the-way spot there.

The Maine man, Leo Huey, who said he narrowly escaped robbery by automobile deal go-betweens after being lured from a Concord car auction recently, has identified a Quincy suspect now in custody as one of the men.

Huey was taken to Concord by Deputy Supt. James Sheehan of the racket squad. It was reported Concord authorities might issue a warrant for the Quincy man after listening to Huey's story.

EARLIER ROBBERY TRY

Irwin vanished after a suspect took him to Postoffice sq. to meet a mysterious "Dave Andrews" from whom Irwin expected to buy two cars. The Maine dealer has told police the suspect figured in an abortive attempt to rob him on thes ame sort of trip.

Huey said he had been suspicious and had left his money with friends before taking the ride.

At Lake Walden, when the mob stopped their machine, Huey boldly told them:

"If you plan to rob me, you are wasting your time. I haven't a cent with me."

He said one of the men threatened to give him a thorough kicking but that he escaped injury.

As a result, police have been searching empty cottages in the Lake Walden area in their hunt for Irwin.

The man now held by Boston police was arrested for the second time before it was discovered a number of automobile dealers were wary of him.

But his second arrest came suddenly when police, tapping his telephone line, heard three calls during which unidentified men warned him to "keep his mouth shut."

The hunt for Irwin was continued in other places than Lake Walden.

SEARCH QUARRIES

To Quincy was dispatched Special Officer Thomas Farrell of Milk st. station and in Quincy he met local officers who began with him a check of the numerous Quincy quarries expected to take a couple of days.

Sgt. John Byrne and Special Officer Edward McGrath went to Milton, where Police Chief Michael Shields assigned several officers to aid them in search of ponds and summer cottages.

Special Officer Joseph Crowley headed for Clinton on a similar mission, with the co-operation of Clinton authorities.

Meehan Wins Fourth Term In Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Dec. 10—Mayor James P. Meehan was re-elected to his fourth consecutive two-year term over John J. Buckley by the narrow margin of 467, a tabulation showed today. The final vote was: Meehan, 17,008; Buckley, 16,541.

John W. McCarthy was re-elected to his fourth term as Alderman Director of Engineering, and Alderman-Director of Public Safety Louis J. Scanlon was re-elected for a third consecutive term.

By a 14,476 to 13,274 vote, citizens approved raising the mayor's pay from $3500 to $6000 and aldermen's salaries from $2500 to $4000

Rev. Amos C. B. Murphy, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, who barnstormed by bicycle, topped the school committee candidates with 15,600 votes. Re-elected to a fourth school committee term was Atty. Marie Loughlin, who was second with 15,303.

Next Noxon Plea Set Tomorrow

Atty. Walter Donovan, associate with former Gov. Joseph B. Ely in the defense of John F. Noxon, will appear tomorrow before Gov. Bradford in the next step in the campaign to win a pardon for the wealthy Pittsfield attorney now serving a life term for the murder of his mentally defective infant son.

The Governor, who said he had reached no decision as yet, has three alternatives—pardon, commutation or no action.

Meanwhile, Noxon was buoyed at State Prison by news that his wife had pleaded loyally and long before Gov. Bradford for his freedom just before the chief executive left for Washington in connection with the State's fuel problems.

The convicted attorney had another prison reunion with his wife in the guard room before she returned to New York State, where she now makes her home.

Conducting the investigations, due to get under way today, will be marine experts from Washington and New York, Boston maritime officials, Coast Guard representatives and insurance underwriters.

BLOW TO OIL MOVEMENT

Meanwhile it was thought that the temporary loss of the 10,000-ton former Pacific fleet tanker would further complicate the State's critical fuel position, as the vessel was being converted at East Boston to carry emergency oil shipments to New England.

Although about 150 men were working on the tanker when she broke in half, only one man of the 14 treated for injuries is still hospitalized.

Paul Donato, 38, Brastow ave., Somerville, a boss welder, who was violently struck on the head by a stanchion, is on the danger list at City Hospital. His condition today was reported as poor.

MAY BE REJOINED

As the tanker still lay in her grotesque V position in shallow water, marine engineers said the two sections could be towed away and reassembled in drydock.

One engineer voiced the opinion that the all-welding construction was the reason for the accident. Several vessels of this type, he said, had split due to residual stresses, which occur occasionally in all-welded type ships.

Another expert suggested that the change of water temperature might have been the cause of the split.

The tanker had been brought from a long lie-up in the Navy's "graveyard" in the James river, Virginia.

Wife of Parson Granted Divorce

BALTIMORE, Dec. 10 (AP)—Testimony that her clergyman husband kept the parsonage at a temperature of less than 60 degrees and told her to "put on a sweater, robe and long underwear," won a divorce for Mrs. Nettie S. Philips.

Mrs. Philips told Judge Edwin T. Dickerson she married Rev. Euclid Philips in November, 1944, and had to leave him two months later when she contracted a severe cold and a sore throat.

She testified Rev. Mr. Philips sat around the house "in his overcoat and muffler around his neck, and rubbers." Rev. Mr. Philips' present address was given as a home for the aged at Sharon, Pa.

HOMES FOR PUPS

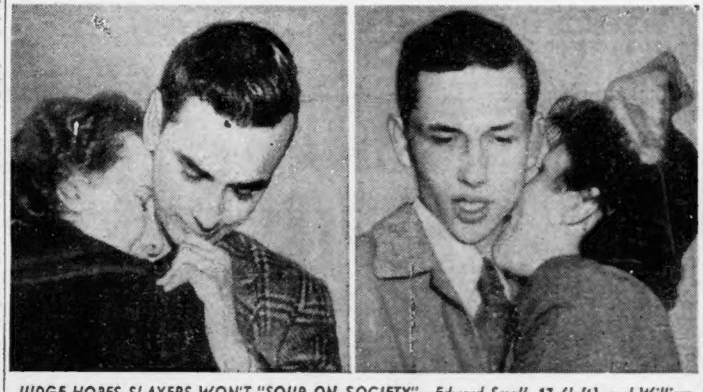
CLEVELAND, Dec. 10 (AP)—Since the Cleveland Plain Dealer began printing a picture of a lost dog every Monday morning, the Animal Protective League has found homes for hundreds of pooches that otherwise might have been unclaimed.

From August to November, 705 stray dogs were placed in new homes compared to 391 in that period of 1946.

Boy Auto Victim in 47th Day of Coma

FITCHBURG, Dec. 10—Edward Ferguson, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Ferguson, today began his 47th unconscious day at Burbank Hospital.

Struck by an automobile Oct. 25, he suffered head injuries.



JUDGE HOPES SLAYERS WON'T "SOUR ON SOCIETY"—Edward Small, 17 (left), and William Hungerford, 16 (right), both of Detroit, comfort their mothers in court after the youths had been sentenced to serve 15 to 30 years for the slaying of John C. Small, father of Edward. Judge John J. Maher, in pronouncing sentence said, "You are only four or five years out of the short pants stage. Now you are in a jam. But in spite of anything I do, I don't want you to sour on society." Small was slain with a machete. Associated Press Wirephoto

Bridgewater Man Hurt in Car Crash

Owen Norton, 42, Plymouth st., Bridgewater, escaped with a bad shakeup and a sliver of glass in his left eye today when his car turned over three times, coming to rest right side up, after colliding with a truck at Southern artery and Furnace Brook pky., Quincy.

The truck, operated by Leonard Emmons, Hancock st., Abington, was unscratched. Norton was aided out of his car by Michael DeVincentis, 28, operator of a gas station at the junction, who saw the car make three complete somersaults.

Norton was taken to Quincy City Hospital in a police ambulance and held for treatment of shock and his eye injury. He said he held the steering wheel tightly while his car spun itself over and over.

Commies Flourish Inn Belgian Congo

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—Communism is on the march in the Belgian Congo, one of the world's major sources for uranium ore, Newell Booth, Methodist bishop for Africa, declared today.

"The church can combat Communism there," he added. "But we must act now or it will be too late."

The 44-year-old churchman, youngest U. S. Methodist bishop, is here for the annual meeting of the board of missions.

HICCUPS CURE

GREAT FALLS, Mon., Dec. 10 (AP)—Three shots from an automatic pistol outside a tavern were fired, Stanley J. Take, 21, told a justice court, not to disturb the peace but to cure his wife of the hiccups.

The remedy worked, he said.

Red Demands Peril German Treaty Talks

LONDON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Western diplomats today described Russia's demands for $10,000,000,000 in repatriations from Germany—to be paid largely out of current production—as the issue which probably would break up the Big Four foreign ministers conference.

This view, apparently, is behind efforts of the western representatives to obtain from Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov an explanation of his statement that questions of reparations and German economic unity could be considered simultaneously.

American officials are privately convinced that Molotov is not prepared to agree to economic unification of Germany without assurance that all—or at least a substantial part—of his reparations demands will be met.

The opposition of the United States and Britain to these demands so far is absolute, and under the circumstances responsible western sources say they do not see how any important Big Four agreements can be made on Germany.

State Sec. Marshall is known to feel that a solution of German economic problems providing for the removal of zonal barriers to trade is a prerequisite to any other agreements on Germany.

One phase of the reparations question on the agenda for discussion is a British proposal which would provide that Germany "shall not be called upon to make any reparations deliveries from current productions or stocks" until after German import obligations have been met, occupation costs paid and a balanced economy obtained.

Both Marshall and British Sec. Bevin fought hard for this proposition at the Moscow conference last spring. Russia has firmly opposed it.

Russia Says End Of Rationing Near

LONDON, Dec. 10 (INS)—The Moscow radio said today that consumer rationing in Russia will come to an end at the close of 1947.

The broadcast quoted a Pravda reprint of a speech by Georgi Malenkov, high ranking member of Russia's Politburo.

He listed as aims of Russia's newest five-year plan the surpassing of the prewar level of the country's national income and the levelling of national consumption.

GOP Brushes Aside Truman Inflation Bill to Push Own

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Republicans shouldered aside today an Administration rationing and allocation bill and tried for agreement among Senate-House leaders on an anti-inflation program of their own.

This largely voluntary attack on the cost of living problem brought a cry from Rep. Gore (D.) of Tennessee, that the majority party is rubber stamping for big business.

While the Tennessean was lashing out at his G. O. P. colleagues in a statement, Chairman Taft (R.) of Ohio, of the Senate G. O. P. policy committee said it is his personal inclination to pigeonhole the measure sent to Capitol Hill yesterday by Commerce Sec. Harriman.

PERMITS RATIONING

Harriman's bill proposes broad powers which Under Sec. William C. Foster said would permit the rationing of meat, gasoline and other commodities.

The measure would provide authority for allocations and priorities on scarce items, including livestock and poultry, steel, grain and grain products, freight cars and other commodities.

Thus the bill covered much of the ground suggested by President Truman in his anti-inflation message to Congress. It specifically excluded the standby price control authority he asked. But even this omission apparently made it no more palatable to the Republicans.

PREDICT SHUNTING

Taft's judgment that the measure should be laid aside was reinforced by reports to the Senate Democratic policy committee that this is exactly what may happen.

A Democractic official said his party members know very well that the Republicans aren't going to take the Harriman bill. He added, however, that so far as he knows no other general anti-inflation measure will be submitted by government departments.

Taft and other Senate leaders scheduled a meeting with House chieftains today at which they hope to agree on a Republican program based primarily on voluntary campaigns to hold down prices and allot scarce goods.

MUST APPROVE

If this program, which also is expected to call for slashes in government spending and taxes, gets the leadership's approval, it still will have to be O. K.'d by the Republican policy committees and full membership conferences of both Houses.

Paris Rebuffs Russia, Denies Hostile Acts

By ROBERT PARKER

PARIS, Dec. 10 (INS)—The French government rejected today the Soviet note breaking off trade negotiations and cancelling the 1945 repatriation agreement because of what Moscow termed "hostile acts" by Paris.

The government branded the Soviet note as inadmissible and instructed the charge d'affairs at Moscow to hand it back to the Russians.

France, in obvious retaliation to the Russian move, last night expelled members of the Russian repatriation commission on the grounds that they engaged in subversive activities.

Russia's note protested against the earlier expulsion by France of 19 Russian nationals accused of meddling in politics during the Communist-led strikes, and against France's action in taking over the Beauregard Soviet repatriation camp.

While Premier Schuman's cabinet also sought means of preventing inflation, strikers continued to oppose miners returning to work in the northern coal basin.

At Sallaumines, strikers plastered posters all over town, criticizing the government's rejection of their wage demands. Strike patrols roamed the streets, barring access to the pits.

Army Devises New Standards

With a unique and all-embracing classification system, the Army has devised new physical and mental standards to bring about greater use of manpower in future mobilizations.

Under its new plans the Army hopes to avoid the errors of the last war, when the false ad harmful "4-F" stigma was placed on several million men who could have served the country in a non-combat capacity.

How the system can affect millions of Americans will be told in detail in the exclusive article, "The Stigma Is Lifted from the 4-F's," to be featured in next Sunday's American Weekly, magazine issued with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Holdup Man Chains Cabbie To Tree in Frigid Weather

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 10 (AP)—A holdup man who, police said, chained a taxicab driver by his neck to a tree, was described today by the victim as "a smooth operator."

Driver Albert Huesman, 25, told officers he was left chained to the tree at an isolated spot in Iroquois Park last night after the man took $20 and drove away in the cab.

For more than an hour in freezing weather Huesman said he remained there. He had on a suit but noo overcoat.

Three high school boys noticed in passing a white rag waving in underbrush around the tree. Approaching, they saw the chained man and called police. It took two detectives 15 minutes, working with macksaws, to free the driver.

Huesman said his "fare," carrying a bag, had asked if the driver cared for a drink after being picked up. Huesman said "no" and the man took a gun from the bag. He thenordered Huesman to drive to the park. There, Huesman said, he learned the bag also contained the chain and lock.

"He was a smooth operator and looked like he knew what he was doing," added Huesman.

Waldorf

Mincemeat . . . Without Meat?

PERISH THE THOUGHT

SOMEWHERE, AND ONLY RECENTLY, there must have been published an article about restaurant pies, particularly mince pies. I wish I could find its origin, for from all over I have had people ask me if Waldorf, in common with the general rule of today, is using a pie filling for mince pies which contains not a morsel of meat! Can you imagine such a makeshift in Waldorf Cafeterias?

• And naturally I have answered these inquiries with considerable vehemence, for we have never changed our mincemeat recipe one little bit. To do so would spoil it, and we don't intend to have that happen! It's too popular!

• So perhaps a partial list of the good things that go into Waldorf mincemeat would interest you. And if you want to compare it with an old cook book at your house, you will agree that it follows the general rules used by our mothers, our grandmothers, and long before that.

• Waldorf mincemeat, first of all, contains the best of tender, juicy, fresh beef cuts, . . that's the basis. Then we add a whole host of other good things . . . Baldwin apples, fresh oranges and lemons, seeded raisins, currants, citron, cinnamon, mace, cloves, and pure apple cider. Of course we have our own way of cooking mincemeat, and baking mince pies. That's to be understood . . and probably why they are so delicious and so different!

• But as for mincemeat, without meat . . . perish the thought!

HIT-RUN DRIVER SOUGHT

CLINTON, Dec. 10—Pursuing the theory that Raymond Gibbons, 5, Stone st., found unconscious by a roadside near his home, had been the victim of a hit-run driver, police today interviewed the young boy at Clinton Hospital.

UMT Week Proclaimed In 20 States

By DAN MARKEL
Boston American
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—Governors of 20 states have officially proclaimed the week of Jan. 5-12 as Universal Military Training Week, the American Legion announced.

Proclamations have been promised by nine others. Still others will give strong support to universal military training during the week.

Universal Military Training Week will coincide with the reopening of Congress following the Christmas holidays for the second regular session of the 80th Congress.

Legion plans call for a nationwide crusade to compel congressional action on the House universal military training bill, H. R 4278.

States whose governors have officially proclaimed Universal Military Training Week are: Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Kansas Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, Oklahoma Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, West Virginia.

Legion officials say they expect proclamations by governors of other states, including New York, California, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Connecticut and Maine.

Sweeney Gets Air Post In National Guard

The man who dropped the world's first two atomic bombs, B-29 Bomber Pilot Charles W. Sweeney, 27, Columbia rd., South Boston, today was appointed assistant chief of staff of the 67th Fighter Wing, National Guard, with the rank of lieutenant colonel, the rank he held during the war.

Neighborhood Bars Flayed As Woman-Drinker Traps

Jamming of neighborhood areas, already filled with cafes, bars and saloons, with additional places providing women and mothers with easy access to liquor, drew the fire today of John M. Kingman, director of Lincoln House, South End.

Kingman, in a protest to the Boston Licensing Board, declared that not only in the South End but in other sections of the city, additional liquor licenses were being sought "although there are already too many bars."

"There are 40 places in the neighborhood of our settlement house," he declared. "Some of these places once refused to serve women but now they are seeking their trade as a means of keeping up their volume of business and competing with rival places only a few doors away.

"With this lax attitude, bars are becoming hangouts for immoral women, who turn them into clip joints. In our own section, there are three large labor bureaus. We find some of these women virtually lying in wait for laborers to induce them into bars and get their money.

"Even decent women are trapped into meeting the wrong companions in these places. Often they get themselves in trouble while in an irresponsible condition because of drinking.

"The rising number of illegitimate children can in many cases be attributed to women having too many drinks in these neighborhood bars."

House Action Speeds Indian Emergency Ai

By KENT HUNTER

Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—T Navajo and Hopi Indians, wh desperate plight was exposed the Hearst newspapers, sho have their $2,000,000 emerge relief by Christmas.

The bill passed the House unanimous consent and is be routed to a favorably-minded co mittee in the Senate to reco mend it for Senate vote.

Rep. Richard J. Welch (R.) California, chairman of the Hou Committee on Public Lands, n neuvered the relief bill throu the House.

Under normal procedure, t House, in debate on the $5 000,000 European interim aid b could not take up any other ma ter. Welsh, however, obtain recognition from Speaker Mart and asked to consider the Indi bill "out of order." He request it be passed by unanimous co sent.

Speaker Martin said:

"You have heard the motion of the gentleman from California. Are there any objections? The chair hears none. It is so ordered."

The entire House procedur took less than three minutes.

At the Senate end of the Cap itol, the relief bill will go to th Indian affairs subcommittee o the Senate public lands commit tee.

There it will come under chair manship of Sen. Arthur V. Wat kins (R.) of Utah, who first ad vocated emergency aid for th Navajos and Hopis last July 2 on the Senate floor.

Parolee Arraigned n Woman Slugging

WEST STOCKBRIDGE, Dec. 0—Reginald Brogan, 16, Concord Reformatory parolee, faced court on an armed robbery charge today after being trapped by a large posse in an empty camp at Crane Lake.

The youth, wanted for the slugging and robbery of a neighbor, Mrs. Hazel Delgarian, 50, had sought shelter from biting cold which saw the mercury drop to 0 degrees.

He offered no resistence when cornered by Lt. John S. Horgan and Sgt. Michael Sullivan of the State Police and surrendered a .25 caliber Belgian automatic which had been stolen two days ago from the home of John Genari, the State Police said.

Reginald's mother reported earlier to Sheriff John Masiero that her son had a gun, had declared his intention of "pulling a couple of holdups

Lady can you take a hint? When he looks long and hard at a window full of outdoor apparel . . . that's your cue to head for Kennedy's Sportswear Shop . . . that outdoor man of yours will fall hard for one of the rugged jackets and jac shirts that fill our racks. Can't you just hear him bragging about how smart the "Little Woman" was to give him just what he's been wanting? Take a look at the items below and pick out the one that most suits that top man on your Christmas list.

A. FURNLEE COAT. 48" Ulster coat with shell of fine combed cotton yarn. Lined with warm alpacca pile, also large alpacca collar. Slash pockets, double breasted style. $57.50

B. THREE WAY COAT. A wonderful new coat by McGregor that is actually three coats in one. Water repellent, windproof shell of rayon and cotton twill. Zip front and practical two-way pockets. 100% wool lining zips in for cool days, out when it's warm.

C. THREE WAY COAT LINING. The wool lining of your three-way coat converts into a perfect-fitting collarless jacket for leisure wear. Coat with lining. $25

D. JAC SHIRTS. Colorful plaid and plain collar jacket-shirt combinations. Wear it as a jacket on cool fall and spring days. Wear it under coats as a shirt for extra protection in winter. $9.95

E. WOOL LINED JACKET GOLF JACKET. Water repellent, Zelan treated shell, zip lining of 100% wool. Patented Veesleev construction allows full freedom of action in any activity. $14.95

F. McGREGOR DRIZZLER. The ideal jacket for golfing, sailing, hunting or any outdoor activity. Zip front, slash pockets. Made of rayon and cotton treated to be water repellent and wind proof. $10.95

Derro Tops Police List in Winchester

Sgt. Joseph J. Derro topped the list of 10 candidates who received passing marks in the examination held Nov. 10 to fill the position of police chief of Winchester, the Civil Service Commission announced today.

Sgt. Derro's mark was 96.62. Next two were Sgt. Charles J. Harrold, 93, and Patrolman Edward F. Bowler, 91.71.

The Winchester Board of Selectmen will choose one of these three to fill the vacancy created by retirement of Chief William H. Rogers last June.

Give blood REGULARLY to the Boston City Hospital.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

A SYSTEM PREVAILS in the bakery business of consigning stocks of bread to retailers who return unsold bread to the bakery. Much of the unsold bread is waste. Roughly the waste amounts to between 500,000,000 and 600,000,000 loaves of bread a year, I am told.

The trade practice grew up normally in a competitive market, the risk of unsold goods being shifted from the retailer to the manufacturer. Of course, it inevitably goes into the price of the commodity.

The government has in no practical manner dealt with this problem. The Luckman committee dodged it altogether, although this was a more important matter than making a Thursday eggless.

The secretary of commerce, Averell Harriman, who seeks to re-establish OPA under the fancy name of allocation, would be able to reduce the amount of flour available to bakeries if Congress gave the President that power.

In other words, it is rationing at the source by allocation, a process that is being used in connection with tin, for instance. But that would not solve the problem because of the competition among bakers for whatever business they could get, and unless consignment selling is forbidden, it would continue.

THE AMERICAN BAKERS ASS'N could probably solve the problem by passing a resolution to that effect, although it would be tough to get absolute co-operation among approximately 10,000 wholesale bakers in this country.

Such a step on their part might be construed by an attorney-general as an act in restraint of trade, a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. And any good lawyer will advise the bakers not to accept clearance from the Attorney-General's office for such clearance is not binding, as has been laid down in the courts.

In fact, nothing but an Act of Congress or specific delegation of powers by Congress to the President could safeguard the bakers against an eventual law-suit and a possible action against them for conspiracy. So as it stands, nobody is taking any attorney-general's word that they can restrain an established trade practice.

Meanwhile, bread is being wasted, grain is being wasted.

ANOTHER FACTOR in this situation is that in many places bread is sold by a driver-salesman who gets a commision on sales. If some but not all bakeries in an area refuse to engage in consignment selling, grocers will prefer to buy from those who do.

The commission of the driver-salesman employed by the bread-saving company would be reduced. He would probably strike for a higher guaranteed wage. It means trouble all around—but meanwhile the bread is being wasted.

Some of it is ground up into feed, breadcrumbs, and other products, but generally it is wasted.

The truth of that matter is that no bakers like consignment selling because it is wasteful and costly. Competition is, however, very keen in this business. It is astonishing how new firms with new bread, roll and cake products, come into the market and make a go of it.

Grocers, on the other hand, say that they cannot know precisely how many loaves to order, particularly of the other than standard brands. If a baker wants his bread to go, he has to display his wares on the shelves.

Furthermore, the general experience is that if a favorite kind is unavailable, the customer will take what is on the shelves. For after all, bread is bread.

SO, TO SUMMARIZE what the government would like to do, by allocation, is to kill competition, to starve the small producer by giving him little or no flour, to monopolize the business in the hands of large producers.

The entire trend of the Keynesian economists who tried Socialism under the New Deal has been in that direction since NRA days, reaching an apex of absurdity in the black markets of the OPA. They firmly believe in the elimination of competition, advertising, initiative, ingenuity. They believe in levelled-down standardization by government edict.

Which is better: Non-competitive Socialism or an element of waste inevitable in a competitive system? That question can really only be answered by Congress. Evil and economic practises grow up in competition which the Congress can constitutionally correct by legislation.

Try this one – for size

So you like them big – and brilliant – and blessed with something more than ordinary comfort.

You like a car with the looks and bearing of a leader – and with the earmarks of quality everywhere upon it.

For just such tastes we built the Roadmaster – we invite you now to measure it against your fondest dreams.

See the stretch-out room that's encompassed in its eighteen feet of the most distinctive styling on the road.

Eye the rich interiors, feel the fine fabrics, handle the sturdy hardware, fashioned with all the taste and skill of the silverworker's art.

Sample the mastery of hill and highway that's in 144 eager horsepower, when it is the lively, brilliant horsepower of a Fireball straight-eight engine.

Above all – compare the ride that's yours when two-tons-plus ride on four coil springs and Safety-Ride rims. Match its comfort against anything, anywhere, at any price – and from the back-seat rider's viewpoint as well as the driver's.

For the plain truth is, this one has earned its high place on what it does for you and to you out on the open road.

It has become the most respected single series of any make of car on sheer merit rather than tradition alone.

So if your standards are high, set your sights on a Roadmaster. Seek out the car that's topping everything at or over its price in the high regard of the motoring public.

Your Buick dealer has it – and he'll take your order for a Roadmaster any time you give him the word.

Mystery Kite Darkens 3 Towns

FITCHBURG, Dec. 10—Authorities here today were trying to trace the origin of a weather kite that struck a main electric feed line last night, plunging the whole city and the surrounding towns of Townsend and Ashby into darkness.

Auxiliary transformers restored lights in homes but street lamps were blown out and had to be replaced by emergency crews working through the night. The kite bore the marking "M-357-A 40 to 50 miles per hour."

Edward Gokey, Phillips st., said he saw the kite strike the feed line, which shot up in a mass of flames.

6 TRAINS WITH THE New Look ...

They all feature the newest of the new in coach equipment — gleaming stainless steel on the outside, the last word in attractive decoration and design on the inside. The doors open with magic ease. The deep-cushioned seats with their crisp, laundered headrests invite you to relax at just the right angle for the most comfort. Shadowless, glareless, but brilliant lighting makes reading a pleasure. You view the passing New England scene from broad picture windows. A smoking lounge is conveniently located right in your car — and in addition to the usual comfort facilities, there is a powder room and vanity in each coach.

But there are many hidden "extras" that our designers and engineers are extra proud of. One of these is the "soft spring" construction of the trucks. Another is the tight-lock couplers. These unseen features combine to give you the smoothest train ride you have ever known. The air-conditioning system, using new engineering principles, eliminates the usual temperature variations, and keeps the air you breathe "country fresh," and your car always comfortable.

These are all part of a program designed to give you one-hundred-cents worth of value for every dollar you spend for rail travel in New England.

SUBVERSIVE GROUPS

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL of the United States has published a list of ninety-one organizations which are deemed subversive by the Federal Government, and in which membership cannot be accepted by any American citizen without raising suspicion concerning his personal loyalty to the country.

This has been done for the guidance of the new created Loyalty Review Board, which has appointed by President Truman for the purpose of determining the fitness of all persons for Federal employment, the test to be their loyalty to their country.

It is surely a proper requirement for employment by the Government that persons seeking or seeking such employment be loyal to their country, and be above suspicion concerning their loyalty.

The list of subversive organizations published by the Attorney General is therefore of the highest importance.

Undoubtedly members of those organizations now holding Federal employment will do so with jeopardy to their jobs.

But without question, all members of the organizations hereafter seeking Federal employment will do so with little prospect of obtaining it.

THE PROTEST will undoubtedly be made that this is an arbitrary classification potentially capable of working an injustice against innocent people.

The Attorney General himself acknowledges the possibility by saying that "it is entirely possible that many persons belonging to such organizations may be loyal to the United States."

It is true of course that by the device of cautiously flaging evil purposes under laudable-sounding names and titles many completely subversive organizations have induced or enticed innocent and loyal people into membership.

This has always been the excuse offered, although a pretty thin one, by the dupes of such organizations.

If they had only KNOWN the true purposes of the subversive groups, they so often plead, they would not have consented to affiliation.

But isn't it their BUSINESS to know, and actually their PATRIOTIC DUTY to be informed in such matters — especially when the grave impairment and ultimate destruction of the American Government are the objects to which they otherwise lend themselves, and when those true purposes are so easily ascertained?

Take, as an example, one of the most notorious of the organizations which the Attorney General has called subversive—the American Youth for Democracy, an organization widely represented in the schools and colleges of the country.

It is the most natural and proper thing in the world that American youth should be FOR democracy.

Any organization honestly and faithfully serving that purpose would be a very good thing indeed.

But the organization calling itself the so-called American Youth for Democracy is actually something ENTIRELY DIFFERENT, and is in some respects an AGENCY OF SOVIET RUSSIA which is maintained in the United States for advocating a COMMUNIST FORM OF GOVERNMENT IN THE UNITED STATES and for pursuing that objective with vigor.

PRESUMABLY, MANY of the thousands of American youths who have affiliated with the American Youth for Democracy—the vast majority of them, let us hope—have done so innocently and without knowledge of its more sinister purposes, and therefore without conscious disloyalty to the United States.

But there was so little excuse for their ignorance that it has always cast a serious reflection on their intelligence and a grave reflection upon their concept of patriotic duty and diligence.

Oh, the fickle state of lovers!
A heart perplexed with hopes and fears
Today a world of joy discovers,
And tomorrow's drowned in tears.
In a lover's breast doth dwell,
Very Heaven, or very hell.
—QUARLES

NOT SO LONG ago some Chicago school children voting on "likes" and "dislikes" indicated they disliked dentists. Asked to explain, a spokesman for the kids said: "Well, dentists tell you it won't hurt much and it does." Out of the mouths of babes! Anyway, there has been invented a dentist's drill claimed to be painless. Glad to hear that. The most unpleasant periods I have spent in dentists' chairs were when the drill was being used.

GREAT HEART-THROB: What did Valentino have that has inspired so many women to cherish loving memories of him for so long a period? A matron, who in her youth idolized the greatest of all film heart-throbs, says "Valentino brought out the Madonna in a woman." She is against anybody attempting to portray Valentino in a film version of his life. She concludes: "Let the memories of those who admired him so much remain undisturbed. What Valentino had that made women love him defies imitation and is not possessed by any actor of today."

E. V. Durling

IN A SLUMP: Brooklyn is in a slump. California and Texas have been topping it regularly. Now the beautiful borough across the bridge has even been topped by Newark, N. J. which is boasting of being the residence of a 14-year-old boy with a well-developed moustache.

AMONG THE MARRIED: Lady Montgomery says when she was a girl "marriage was more enduring." Her ladyship was a girl about 50 years ago. Perhaps marriage was more enduring in the 90's but I don't believe in that period there was as high a percentage of happily married people as today. I believe more women of the present marry for love than when Lady Montgomery was a girl. Also more women today escape from an unhappy first marriage and make a second marriage. I have more opinions on this subject but will not force them upon you today. But maybe I will tomorrow.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q—Has there ever been a great Irish inventor? A—John Philip Holland, the inventor of the submarine, was born in the County Clare, Ireland. One of his first submarines was called the Fenian Ram. Q—How is it you didn't know the first escalator in this country was installed at the 59th St. station of the Third Ave. L, New York city, in 1900 and is still in operation? A—What you refer to was styled "an inclined elevator" by its inventor, Jesse Reno. The first "escalator," invented by Charles Seeberger, was, as I said, installed in Gimbel's department store, Philadelphia, in 1901.

REMEMBERING: Seattle subscriber refers to the period in our history when the favorite song of sopranos was "No, Sir! No, Sir! No, Sir!" that of contraltos "Who'll Buy My Violets?" and of bassos "I'm Off to Philadelphia in the Morning." Only song he refers to I am familiar with is "Who'll Buy My Violets?" and I heard Raquel Miller sing that some time during the nineteen twenties.

MOTHERS-IN-LAW: As time goes by those daughters-in-law become mothers-in-law. With this thought in mind a Chicago group of young married women have formed a future mothers-in-law club. They will discuss the ways and means of becoming good and lovable mothers-in-law. They will also exchange views on the current handling of problem mothers-in-law.

TEA: What kind of tea do you prefer? Ever hear of pinhead gunpowder tea? Never tried it myself but note it on a price list at $1.45 a pound. Highest priced tea on this list is Jasmine at $3.50 a pound. I go for a spot of tea every afternoon around four o'clock. Very stimulating. The English have something in that tea idea.

FILLIES & COLTS: "How about something on fillies & colts? My teen-age daughters are having a very difficult time with their boy friends. How can these mulish colts be handled?" writes a New Yorker. The situation referred to is a difficult one. Made so by the fact teenage females are more "boy crazy" than the lads are "girl crazy." The girls make boys their chief interest. They spoil the boys by excessive attention. On the other hand while the boys are fond of feminine companionship they have many other interests. They don't want a love-sick female hanging on their neck all the time. More comment on the fillies & colts situation anon. Maybe sooner.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—The fault may be ours, but it often seems to me that the professional bleeding-hearts deliberately make it difficult for the right-minded element to understand them.

Westbrook Pegler

We hear Frank Sinatra deploring Fascism and sincerely wonder why a young man so healthy and pugnacious did not find a place on the dangerous Murmansk run or go out as a driver with some French or British ambulance outfit in the war.

I know of an old fellow, nearly 60, retired from the sea, who went back as the skipper of a tanker. He was soon lost but he would snort at anyone who said today that he gave his life for human freedom. He had read some history and he was a very practical man and his idea was that if our side won, as he was confident we would, his money would keep him through a comfortable old age. The pay was high. He gambled and lost.

Nothing could be more idiotic than to suggest that he left his home and tied loose into the dangers that soon killed him to rebuke callous American Anglos for calling American Italos rude names, which seems to be Sinatra's version of our war aims.

ANOTHER I KNOW, a young musician blind in one eye, joined up with the Field Service and got a medal from the Australians for swimming some of their wounded across a cold river in Italy.

Being a musician, he likes Italians and he thinks Sinatra is neither a good musician nor a representative Italo-American. His reasons for crowding into the war unnecessarily were more spiritual than the old sailor's. He was young and strong, his country was in a fight and so he went, half blind though he was.

SINATRA WAS STRONG, even athletic, but had a legal right to exemption and he took full advantage of it. And yet, his authorized biography tells us that he now seriously thinks of inciting bunches of emotional little girls to disrupt political meetings in the 1948 campaign whenever he decides that a speaker on a proposition is un-democratic.

I doubt that my one-eyed young friend would stand for that. He has strong ideas on strong-armed political methods.

SINATRA'S FIRST political demonstration was made on the night that Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected for his fourth term in 1944.

In the company of Orson Welles and others he toured the circuit of expensive New York saloons known as the Milk Route and spent some time at the political headquarters of Sidney Hillman.

Welles, though he too is young, also was entitled to exemption. Danny Kaye, it will be remembered, a third furious theoretical defender of human liberty, was denied permission to go abroad as an entertainer when his draft board held that his physical condition and mental attitude were inappropriate.

THESE VERY IMPORTANT people make themselves difficult to understand. They seem almost frantic in their hatred of injustice and yet they let millions of others, 18-year-old boys and old men of family, do the actual fighting.

How could men so ferocious restrain themselves?

Welles has seriously stated that he is not a Communist because he regards Communism as an enemy of democracy which he believes in. He is ready to spend enormously out of his earnings to defend the freedoms through organizations which he approves.

He suffers badly from asthma and probably would have been culled even if he had ever managed to sneak into any of our fighting services.

But he certainly could have thumbed his way to Britain, where thousands of asthmatics and cardiacs went through it all. Or he could have sailed aboard the cargo boats, to lend a hand, somehow.

WELLES, LIKE SO MANY others, Sinatra, Kaye and Quentin Reynolds, has really luxurious taste. They are all fastidious carriage trade.

Mr. Reynolds covered the air raids in London and cashed in on the courage of the Cockney in Hollywood and in orations for cash at the groaning board on the festive luncheon circuit. His check for $2000 for a few words of voluptuous praise for the Garsson boys was paid for ultimately in the War Bonds bought by soldiers who couldn't come back until it was over, over there.

In New York, Reynolds lives at the River House, the most pretentious row of flats in the United States.

Hollywood

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10 (INS)—Jack Warner would like to play Cupid and bring Jane Wyman and Ronnie Reagan together, so he's arranging to have them co-star in "John Loves Mary." Good for Jack! That's a charming love story and once Jane and Ronnie begin making love in this movie, well, all their differences surely will be forgotten.

Jane Wyman

Jane left New York quietly but so far none of her friends have seen her. She hasn't been well and maybe that's the reason for her walkout, and the many difficult - to - understand things she's done lately.

Anyway, Jane, Ronnie loves you, just as "John Loves Mary," so don't let little things separate you. There was never a married couple in the world who didn't have their differences—and that goes for some of us who have been married for years and years. Even people as happily married as Julie and George Murphy take time out to disagree. But they never let any disagreements get too serious, and don't you. This is my message for the day.

REALLY GOOD box office bait are the documentaries being offered today. One everybody will want to see is "Operation High Jump," R. Adm. Richard Byrd's expedition to the Antarctic.

With the aid of the Navy, MGM has just completed editing this historic film, and believe me, it was a job. From the original 150,000 feet of film made by Navy photographers, the studio has cut it down to 5500 feet of unadulterated thrills.

It's all there the great expedition of 13 ships, 4000 men, scores of planes, hundreds of dogs, scientific instruments, stores and supplies.

Top men of the Navy are responsible for the commentary and script, and O. O. Dull gets credit as producer.

BOB HOPE is bringing Sid Fields, England's top comic, to Hollywood. He was on the Hope show while Robert was in London and he was so impressed with Fields' type of comedy that he made arrangements for Fields to come here and make movies.

Bob will sponsor him and perhaps be a partner in the Fields comedies, which, I suppose, will be produced at Paramount.

One thing for Robert, he always believes there's room for everyone, which is a very fine trait, I think.

YOU'LL FIND Paule Crosset something entirely different in leading ladies. She's beautiful with a different sort of charm than the kind you usually attribute to Hollywood glamor girls. Her face is lovely, and she doesn't depend upon any fancy hair-dos or chic costumes. In "The Exile" she wears simple peasant clothes.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., tore up her contract after the reviews were in on "The Exile," gave her more money, and sent her and her bridegroom, Howard Nebenzal, to Coronado on a belated honeymoon. They were married Sept. 25 and Paule left immediately on a personal appearance tour, so they had no chance for a honeymoon.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: I am expecting one of these days, and very soon, to tell you that Jack Carson and Kay St. Germaine have forgotten their grievances and have decided to try marriage again.

When Kay took their divorce case to court she was so reticent about being uncomplimentary about Jack, that the judge refused to give her a divorce, saying the evidence wasn't sufficient.

Since that time, Jack has gone out with other girls, but now he's got that out of his system and is seeing Kay more regularly. They were at Ciro's dancing every dance and they attended a wedding together last week—and, well, the reconciliation looks good.

Admirers of Ross Shattuck's paintings were invited to a preview of his early California portraits, which are to be exhibited Jan. 22 at Seragil Galleries in New York. Many were bought practically off the walls of Maggie Ettinger's house, where they were shown, although Ross had no intention of selling them before the exhibition.

A painting of the Carson house in Eureka, which might be the mansion Booth Tarkington describes in "Alice Adams," was bought by Tyrone Power. Mrs. Michael Curtiz bought a portrait of a native of Bodie, a wonderful face. Gen Munson chose a Chinese Catholic Church now in ruins. In fact, by the time I got there a painting that I wanted very much was already sold.

I talked with Lana Turner over the telephone following reports she was being seen everywhere with John Talbot, young socialite. There were rumors that Talbot and his wife had parted and Mrs. Talbot had gone to Washington to live with her parents.

Lana said it was all a lot of nonsense, that she didn't change her affections so quickly.

"Why, if I even talk to the bell boy, they have me romancing with him." she said.

She leaves for Sun Valley for the holidays and doesn't expect to return to Hollywood until sometime in January.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random: Ruth Warrick has gone to New York. You guessed it—the attraction is Merrill Pye.

Ruth's closest friend, Mrs. Robert Cobb, is also in New York with Bob and Bob's mother. It was Mrs. Cobb Sr.'s first trip to New York and she was packed and ready to go a week before train time.

Dolly Walker's dinner to welcome home Lady Elsie Mendl brought out 40 of Elsie's friends. At dinner I sat next to Adrian, who had many amusing stories to tell of the camping trip he and Janet Gaynor attempted last summer. Reminded me of a certain lady I know, who went fishing in a Rolls Royce.

Janet wore a quaint gown that looked as if it had stepped out of an 1890 fashion book. That's what the girls are wearing, and on her it looked cute. Adrian, I must say, sticks right to his own opinions on style and doesn't try to put the wide skirts and padded hips on those of us who shouldn't wear them.

Dolly Walker wore a Paris gown, simple and stunning. Nice to see Eleanor Boardman and Harry D'Arrast. Eleanor tells me her daughters are now 19 and 17 and are away at school.

Freddie Lonsdale, the Jack Boltons, the Walter Pidgeons and others greeted Elsie. She told me the dress she wore was eight years old and she had rescued it from a closet in Paris. All in all it was a very nice evening and Dolly is a charming hostess.

Ann Sothern leaves for Sun Valley as soon as her mother is well. But she cannot stay the six weeks necessary for a divorce. She definitely will get a divorce from Bob Sterling, but it will be in Los Angeles. She was at the ballet with Billy Wilder and Bob continues to be seen with Rita Rend.

When you hear the cheers in the Babe Ruth movie, it will be the yells at the Notre Dame- U. S. C. game, which Roy Del Ruth had recorded last Saturday.

Natalie Draper and Ivan Goff completely absorbed in each other at the Bentley Ryan cocktail party. I'll bet a cookie Natalie will be announcing her engagement to Ivan before many days.

Dick Powell flew to New York, had dinner with Sherman Billingsley at the Stork Club and flew right out again. That's a thing I've always wanted to do.

Walter Winchell is on his way back to New York after six weeks in Hollywood.

Claudia Dell and Dan Emmett will marry as soon as Claudia's divorce from Eddie Silton is final. She's now in Las Vegas, so the wedding should take place very soon.

Harry Cushing is taking Georgette Windsor to New York to meet the folks.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

My Boston

By Alan Frazer

CAFE AND TAVERN OWNERS: You won't have to charge a 20 per cent entertainment tax if your only entertainment is television. Happy? . . . Of course, in New York, they're charging a $4 minimum even for men standing at the bar. You wouldn't do that to us here? . . . Our idea of the most dangerous crossing in Boston: Stuart st. and Broadway. Try it sometime . . . Johnny Hynes, who was our mayor on a tentative basis for a few months, was embarrassed at the wonderful hand he got at the Clover Club. John is content where he is: city clerk. His friends think he has a political future . . . Asaf Ali, first ambassador to the United States from India, visits Gov. Bradford tomorrow morning to pay his respects.

THE PUBLIC parking space in front of the administration building at the Logan Airport has been closed for resurfacing and marking. Soon the parking meters will be installed . . . Tom Coffey, a young patient at Middlesex County Sanatorium, Waltham, has written several songs and would like to contact someone who will score them professionally . . . Tonight at 7:45 at Public Latin School, Louis Pasteur ave., you can see a free demonstration of how the telephone company transmits your long-distance calls, also television broadcasts, via microwave . . . Edmond Razy, one of the captains of waiters at the Statler, has been there five years, was formerly at the Astor in New York for 14, and before that at the Savoy, London. He knows more people in Boston, possibly, than you do . . . The same people (Sonnabend) who own the Somerset and Puritan here may soon own the famous Waldorf-Astoria in New York (so you can week-end with Boston folk).

SOME politicians are watching a chap named George Wells, new Worcester alderman-at-large, as a possibility for lieutenant-governor (Democratic). George polled a near-record vote and is said to be hot-stuff on the air . . . The move for Congressman John F. Kennedy for Governor (again, Democratic) is gaining momentum . . . Dot Glazier, Brookline's gift to figure-skating, has been given a raw deal. The chairman of the U. S. Figure Skating Association has wired Dot that the competition in Chicago, starting Dec. 13, has been limited to those who "have a chance" to make the Olympics, and Dot is excluded. Dot holds two national junior championships, nine senior championship, various other titles. The Boston Skating Club is protesting. Dot would pay her own expenses to try for that third spot on the team. The first spot is held by our Gretchen Merrill (naturally), second by Eileen Seigh of Brooklyn.

CONTRARY to your belief, only 55 per cent of our state jobs fall under Civil Service . . . Donald Rust of Rustcraft, Inc., has bought the old Eugene Noble Foss (once Governor) estate at Cohasset . . . The Statler Terrace Room is bringing in a magician on Dec. 15 . . . Speaker Joe Martin of the national House will be the chief speaker at the Women's Republican Club on Dec. 30 . . . In Room 409 of the Statler you would find 2000 gifts for poor children for Christmas . . . just one of the many things Bostonians are doing.

MIKE SACHS, the blind comedian, has a seeing-eye named Alice Kennedy (and not bad for the seeing eye, either) . . . Agnes DeMille wanted to film "Allegro" for the record, especially for the dance numbers which she created, but Equity said she would have to pay the performers a week's salary, so she gave up the idea.

The Shuberts invested $100,000 in renovating the Majestic . . . Billboard says Phil Regan, a Boston favorite and an ex-policeman, has an infectious personality and the customers at the Plaza's Persian Room in New York "couldn't see enough of him." . . . Mike Kelliher, president of our Chamber of Commerce, and Perkins McGuire, the big department store executive, will stage a dinner for Charley Luckman, Cambridge's gift to the food-saving program, on Dec. 18 at the Union Club.

WILLIAM F. HALLISEY, state department commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, says the failure of Congress to solve the housing problem is a "national disgrace." The VFW will wait no longer, will sponsor a housing bill in the Legislature for low rent homes for veterans with a state-guaranteed bond issue by the cities and towns. Other states have it, according to Hallisey. This brings vets' housing to a showdown.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, of Washington, called up the other day and said:

"You know Congress has been blamed in the past for everything from boll weevils to Aunt Susie's chilblains. Well, it's got another headache coming up. It's going to be blamed for the weather."

I asked Sen. Magnuson, very respectfully, of course, what he was babbling about - and he replied:

"Science has actually progressed to the point where it can produce various kinds of weather by artificial means—rain, sunshine, even snow. Well, I have been getting letters from my constituents about it.

"Other members of Congress, particularly from areas containing much reclaimed land, have been getting them too," he said. "The letters all demand that we permit Congress to pass no legislation that would in any way interfere with artificial rain-making."

AFTER the Senator hung up, I began brooding about the thing; of the dangers of discord and sectional disharmony should Congress ultimately be forced to decree the weather by legislation. I was at the point of wondering whether Truman could get re-elected by promising a white Christmas when Grover Wh iney McKeister, the eminent legislative consultant, came in.

"This is no laughing matter for our elected representatives," said Mr. McKeister after I had given him a fill-in. "Suppose a Congressman votes for rain on a certain day and finds out his constituents are holding a barbecue?"

"Or suppose he votes for rain to help grow corn and his constituents are raising cactus?" cut in Miss Reid, an ardent cactus-fan. "He'd certainly get stuck."

"He'd be made to see the point anyway," agreed Mr. McKeister. "But his real troubles would begin when the lobbyists started hounding him."

"Lobbyists!" snorted my social secretary, Mrs. Tabitha Talcott Pratt, who had just blown in on an ill-wind. "You should talk about lobbyists! I suppose you have already cooked up some thieving scheme to swindle suckers by promising to get them favorable weather legislation?"

Mr. McKeister tried to give her a lofty look, but Tabby can outlook him any day, so he continued:

"The raincoat and rubber boots people would retain lobbyists to pressure a permanent rain bill. The sunshine and sun-glass interests would hire lobbyists for a blistering sun bill. The poor Congressmen would get the pressure coming and going."

"They always do," said Mrs. Pratt, agreeing with Mr. McKeister for once. "Take, for instance, poor Rep. Donald Jackson of California. He keeps getting letters from a woman in Beverly Hills protesting that a policeman keeps spitting tobacco on her hydrangeas. No matter how often he informs her this is outside his province she continues to write: 'He's done it again!'"

"What's hydrangeas got to do with this weather thing?" butted in my senior naval aide, Machinist's Mate Michaelangelo Kelly. "What about them blocks?"

WE ALL looked puzzled. "You know them blocks," persisted Mr. Kelly, "Like there's a farm block, and a silver block and ———"

"He means 'bloc'" interpreted Miss Reid. "He's right. I suppose we'd have a rain bloc, and a snow bloc. Maybe for parades a drouth bloc."

Mrs. Pratt remained in frowning thought for a moment. Then she said: "My only fear is that the weather may be taken over by the hot pollen and our best people would suffer. Wouldn't it be a terrible thing if they had rain in Sun Valley?"

"Or," leered Mr. McKeister, "snow in Miami Beach!"

SEN. STYLES BRIDGES of New Hampshire managed to hail a taxi in a pouring rain after half an hour's wait the other night. He had just settled back when—in line with our town's share-the-cab policy - the driver stopped for another fare.

The next instant Sen. Bridges was hit in the breadbasket by a great hairy beast, dripping with water. Then an equally wet female plunked in beside him.

The very dignified and Republicanish solon, chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, tried to ward off the animal, which proved to be an oversize Dobermann Pinscher. Whereupon the wet lady destroyed the last of his aplomb by snapping:

"I know who you are! You're Sen. Bridges. I'm a Democrat myself—but please don't take it out on my dog!"

Finders Keepers Windfall for Boy

BALTIMORE, Dec. 10 (AP)—That $124 Raymond Willard, 12, found in an abandoned house last September was finally his today—with $77.75 more, to boot.

When Raymond found the money in a battered, old wallet, he took it to his mother, who turned it over to police. They said they'd return it if no one claimed it within 30 days, even arranged a ceremony at which the police commissioner was officially to make the presentation.

On the 29th day the money was claimed by John J. Schlissler, who administrates the estate left by the last occupant of the house.

Then Earl Johnson, a restaurant owner, gave the boy $124 on condition that he fight the claim; Jacob D. Hornstein agreed to act as his attorney.

Yesterday Judge John T. Tucker ruled Raymond the legal owner of the $124. After $46.25 court cost, Raymond still had the remainder of his original find, plus Johnson's check for $124.

Russia Training 'External' Aides

LONDON, Dec. 10 (INS)—British newspapers today quoted the Moscow radio as stating Russia is training leaders to put into force "the external policy" of the nine-nation Cominform.

The Moscow broadcast quoted a speech by Georgi Malenkov, high-ranking member of Russia's all-powerful politburo, in Warsaw last September when the "Cominform was inaugurated. Malenkov reportedly said:

"Leaders will be taught how to defend the interests of the Socialist state in the international arena. We can see the dangerous game of the United States and Britain who are now defying the obligations they assumed in the second world war and are seeking new supporters among the enemies of democracy."

Soothes Throat Irritation

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This at Home

Here's an old home mixture your mother probably used, but, for real results, it is still one of the most effective and dependable for coughs due to colds. Once tried, you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and 1 cup water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's so easy! Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle, and fill up with syrup. This makes a full pint of truly splendid cough medicine, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a family a long time.

And you'll say it's really excellent, for quick action. You can feel it take hold swiftly. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Pinex Saves Money. Comforting Relief. Easy To Mix.

The "new look" in cars is a Studebaker origination

Announcing the new 1948 Studebakers

America's most admired and desired postwar automobile now swings on the scene in a fabulously fine new 1948 version. Thrillingly different new Champion and Commander convertibles add their glamor to the "new look" that's a world-wide Studebaker style mark. Low-swung new 1948 sedans and coupes round out the picture. Here's a star-studded presentation of modern motoring luxury that emphasizes anew the out-ahead distinctions of Studebaker styling and engineering. The first showing of the first superb new 1948 Studebakers to arrive in town is now on.

You and your family are cordially invited to attend.

Banker Blasts U. S. Home Loans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP) —A leading banker testified that war veterans and other home hunters would be better off living in a tar shack for a year or two instead of paying $11,000 for a house that should cost $5000.

Edward E. Brown, president of the Federal Reserve Board's advisory council, offered this advice to Congressmen as he criticized "housing real estate loans guaranteed by the FHA or under the GI Bill of Rights."

"It is difficult, if not impossible, to persuade banks not to make loans guaranteed by the federal government," the Chicago banker told the Senate-House economic committee.

"Many of these guaranteed loans are in excess of either the cost of the property mortgaged to secure them, or of its reasonable value."

Sen. McGrath Forecasts Truman Victory in '48

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (INS) - Sen. J. Howard McGrath of R. I., national Democratic chairman, expressed confidence that a presidential ticket headed by Pres. Truman will be victorious in the 1948 elections.

McGrath asserted the Democrats are much stronger today than in 1946. He said the danger of inflation, and labor's dissatisfaction with the Taft-Hartley act would be campaign issues.

Special Broadcast to Aid New York Baby Milk Fund

Special to the Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, Dec. 10—A special broadcast in celebration of the 21st anniversary of the Free Milk Fund for Babies will be presented over Station WNBC Friday at 6:20 p. m.

The fine program of Great Moments from Opera will herald the famous charity's benefit performance of Lucia Di Lammermoor to be given next Tuesday evening at the Metropolitan.

Appearing on the broadcast with Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, founder and president of the Free Milk Fund, will be Edward Johnson, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera; Mme. Cloe Elmo, brilliant mezzo-soprano; Miss Lillian Raymondi, charming lyric soprano, and Leonard Warren, famous operatic baritone.

Mrs. Hearst and Johnson, in interview, will tell of the work of the Free Milk Fund for babies, which delivers free milk daily into the homes of sick and needy children, and of the 21 years of great opera benefits given in behalf of the fund at the Metropolitan.

James M. Gaines, manager of WNBC, is directing the presentation.

The artists, all of the Metropolitan Opera, will give a well rounded concert. Mme. Elmo will sing "Che Faro Senza Eurydice" from Orfeo E Eurydice. Miss Raymondi will be heard in the "Addio" from La Boheme, and Leonard Warren will interpret "Eri Tu" from The Masked Ball.

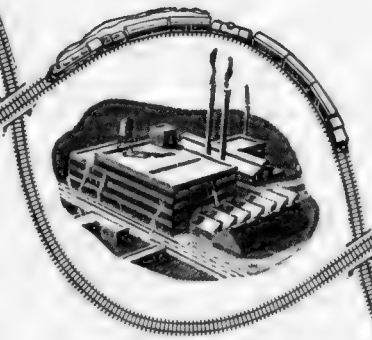
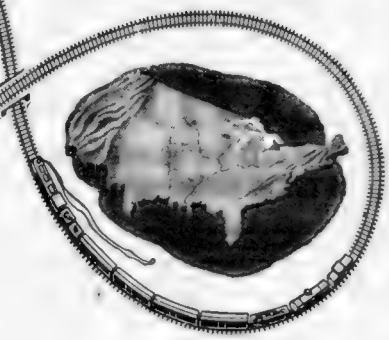
You demand It



Industry depends on It



The Nation must have It

What is IT?

"adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation"

FROM THE OFFICIAL REPORT of the Interstate Commerce Commission on awarding a temporary freight rate increase of 10%, we quote:

> "The law requires us to give due consideration, among other factors, to the need of revenue sufficient to enable the carriers under honest, economic, and efficient management to provide adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation..."

A moment's thought should convince any fair-minded person that keeping the American railroads healthy is to everybody's advantage.

Every family, every businessman, even the Nation itself is in danger when this vital artery of American life is weakened.

And that threat is real, and it is now. For with increases in the cost of railroad operation piling up one atop another, how can the railroads' multimillion dollar program for desperately needed new equipment be continued? How can improvements in roadbeds, yards, stations, rolling stock, which took a merciless beating in the war years of peak traffic, be carried through?

They can't... UNLESS—

Unless the railroads are granted freight rates adequate to meet the wage and materials cost increases, and at the same time keep hundreds of American industries busy with new machinery and equipment orders.

Government requires that the railroads maintain a high standard of efficiency because You demand it, Industry depends on it, and the Nation must have it.

We are asking a permanent freight rate increase of the absolute minimum to meet our need—which is in every sense your need.

Our request should be granted.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary L. (Cuneo) Ferrari, 64, Vista st., Roslindale, wife of Joseph L. Ferrari, retired captain of detectives of the State Police, will be held at the Sacred Heart Church, Roslindale, Friday, with a solemn requiem mass at 9 a. m.

Mrs. Ferrari, wellknown in art circles, leaves, besides her husband, two sons, Robert L. and Clarence J., both of Roslindale and a daughter, Mrs. Marion Healey, Westwood.

Smart Set — Gifts for Homeless

By BETTY ALDEN

Since giving and sharing are the true spirit of Christmas many Bostonians are helping to provide food and shelter for homeless little children of Europe by making Yuletide gifts to the Unitarian Service Committee.

USC rehabilitation work abroad was described to the large group attending a luncheon at the Copley Plaza yesterday. One of the major efforts is helping to rebuild the medical profession in Europe by sending American medical missions to teach our latest techniques. Child care homes are established and centers for clothing distribution maintained to meet vital human needs.

One of the most interested members of the audience was Mrs. Eliot Jones of Beacon Hill, mother of two social register daughters who are working with the Unitarian Service Committee abroad. Miss Dorothea Jones is associated with a hospital in Poland and Miss Selma Jones in Germany. Miss Marian Homans of Canton was also at the luncheon. Her niece, Miss Frances Homans, Boston postdeb, is at the same hospital as Dorothea Jones.

Barbara Mitchell

Mrs. B. Harrison Ragle was luncheon chairman. The serious side of the program was followed by a pageant entitled Christmas Eve on Beacon Hill, presenting carols, Old St. Nick and a bevy of glamorous models displaying gifts and clothes for the holiday.

The many guests included Mrs. Frank G. Allen, wife of a former Bay State Governor, with Mrs. Reginald Smithwick and Miss Constance Learned, head of the volunteers at Deaconess Hospital, whose nurses' glee club sang the carols. Mrs. Alexander Steinert came with her daughter Mrs. Samuel Newman, Mrs. Richard Wood with Mrs. John Kennedy. Also Mrs. George Mumford, Mrs. Nathaniel C. Nash, wife of the Episcopal Bishop, Mrs. Palfrey Perkins whose husband is rector of King's Chapel, Mrs. Morris LaCroix, Mrs. Arthur Allen, Miss Lucy Lowell and Mrs. Chester Jones whose husband was one of the Boston doctors on a recent medical mission to Austria.

Ushers included Barbara Mitchell, Jane Cox, Mrs. Foster Burnham, Julia Deane and Dorothy Hooper.

MR. AND MRS. William T. Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. William Tudor Gardiner and Mr. and Mrs. F. Murray Forbes will be among the fashionable group on hand to hear designer William Pahlmann describe his problems in transforming the old Museum of Natural History building into one of Boston's most glamorous stores, in his talk at the Boston Architectural Center tomorrow evening.

Proceeds will benefit the Center's night classes for architectural students. Coffee will be served during the reception for Mr. Pahlmann.

AN FMINENT group will attend the Foreign Policy Ass'n luncheon Monday at the Copley Plaza to hear a discussion of the Marshall plan. Judge Lawrence Brooks will present several distinguished speakers. Guests will include Mrs. Frederic S. Moseley, Col. and Mrs. Gaspar G. Bacon, Mrs. N. Henry Black, Miss Edith I. Cox, Miss Helen C. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Gorham Dana, Mrs. Gardiner H. Fiske, Mrs. Joseph Lee, Sr., Prof. and Mrs. Payson Wild and Mrs. Roderick Stebbins.

THE STAR-STUDDED dinner party arranged by the New England Opera Theater for Sunday evening at the Copley Plaza is drawing enthusiastic response from musical and social leaders. Bostonians know Dr. Lewis Perry, former headmaster of Phillips Exeter, as a brilliant toastmaster. Boris Goldovsky will present an operatic burlesque, and two luminaries of the musical world at the head table will be Dr. Serge Koussevitsky, conductor of the Boston Symphony, and Ezio Pinza of the Metropolitan Opera.

Among the many planning to attend are Mrs. Edward Brandegee, with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Lawrence, Jr., Mrs. John P. Chase, Mrs. John Moseley Abbot, Mrs. James A. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Cabot, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Rust, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hodgkinson, Mrs. Henry V. Greenough, Mrs. David C. Hale, Miss Madeline G. Brown, Miss Helen J. Almy and Mr. Huntington R. Hardwick.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, WED., DEC. 10, 1947

HIGH PRICES

NOBODY WANTS HIGH PRICES, neither you nor any other right-thinking person in America.

But the only way to get rid of high prices is to go after their cause—inflation. For, high prices do not cause inflation. It's just the other way around. Inflation causes high prices.

Then what does cause inflation? Inflation comes when the flow of money into the markets is far greater than the flow of goods into the markets.

So, in order to stop inflation, a way must be found to bring the flow of money (demand) into better balance with the flow of goods (supply). That is the only way to reduce the inflationary pressures which drive prices up.

At the same time we all want to maintain the standard of living of the American people, and provide the necessary amount of aid to foreign nations.

To accomplish all three of these high purposes, this 12-point program is offered by the National Association of Manufacturers—in the public interest.

12 Forward Steps to Halt Inflation

1. Reduce government spending by maximum efficiency in administration; eliminating excessive government personnel and activities; and postponing all government expenditures not immediately necessary.

2. Provide funds for further capital investment by making an immediate and substantial reduction of individual income tax rates.

3. Adopt a systematic plan for paying off the public debt, with provision for a minimum annual debt retirement of $2½ billion.

4. Offer, and vigorously promote, a new long-term government bond issue having an interest-bearing rate attractive to individual investors; the proceeds to be used to retire government bonds held by banks.

5. Discourage inflationary expansion of bank credit by permitting interest rates to seek their own levels free of government domination.

6. Redoubling, by management, of its efforts to increase production, to lower unit costs, and to pass on the benefits of such increased productivity to the public.

7. Encourage management to plow back earnings and increase output, by eliminating present U. S. Treasury pressure on business to distribute at least 70 per cent of its profits as dividends.

8. Encourage labor leaders to forego demands for further general increases in wages without a corresponding increase in productivity, except in cases of gross inequity.

9. Set aside all restrictions on individual productivity not essential to the safety and health of employees, and remove all feather-bedding rules.

10. Give emergency foreign relief in goods, not in dollars, with an American relief agency making the necessary purchases of whatever goods in whatever markets, here or abroad, prove most economical, and identify them as having been provided by the United States.

11. Finance, to the greatest extent feasible, reconstruction loans to foreign countries, as distinct from gifts and grants, through the World Bank and private sources rather than out of taxes collected from the American public.

12. Provide maximum incentive for increased production abroad by requiring foreign nations, as a condition of our aid, to establish sound currencies and to modify and eventually eliminate price control and other controls over the internal production and distribution of commodities.

And if throughout the years . . . she perpetuates this dewey-fresh, youthfully radiant complexion . . . we venture to say . . . Gloria won't be troubled by loss of complexion cunningness. It would be fun to grow up and grow old . . . and still look young.

Thrifty Meal-in-One

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

JUST BEFORE CHRISTMAS, both budget and busy budgeteer are ready for first-aid, which comes in the form of a thrifty meal-in-one dish for today's "Peace Plate." Lemon and tomato juice add zest and tenderness to lamb neck slices that have been browned and simmered gently to succulent tenderness. Plenty of rich gravy is part of this menu planning.

Why not round out the menu with a refreshing fruit salad made by tossing lightly together orange or tangerine sections, plump seedless raisins, salad greens and dressing. Creamy chocolate pudding, nutritious and easy to make, is an ideal dessert choice.

BRAISED LAMB NECK SLICES WITH VEGETABLES

2 lbs. lamb neck slices, 2 inches thick
⅛ cup sliced onions
¼ cup flour
2½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. fat
1 cup tomato juice
2 tsp. lemon juice
4 potatoes, quartered
2½ cups drained, canned green beans

Dredge neck slices with combined flour, salt and pepper. Brown on both sides in hot fat in Dutch oven or deep skillet. Add onions, tomato juice and lemon juice and boiling water to cover. Cover; simmer 1½ hours until nearly tender. Add potatoes and cook 30 minutes or until tender. Thicken gravy; add green beans and heat. Makes 4 servings.

CHOCOLATE PUDDING

⅔ cup sugar
¼ tsp. salt
5 tbsp. flour
3 cups milk
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 tsp. vanilla

Combine sugar, flour and salt in top of double boiler, mixing thoroughly. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add chocolate. Place over boiling water and cook until chocolate is melted and mixture is thick and well-blended, stirring constantly. Then continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Add vanilla. Chill and serve with milk or thin cream. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For quick cooking, cook pudding in saucepan over direct heat until thickened, stirring constantly.

TIMELY FOOD TIPS

Put more vegetables into each meal, says the U. S. Children's Bureau. Most children don't get enough green and yellow vegetables. Now there is added reason for including them, for not only are they health-builders but they make savings possible on other foods that are urgently needed abroad. Serve winter yellow squash, and raw or cooked carrots. These are comparatively good buys just now and what's more, children like them.

Serve sweet potatoes and yams (they're the deep-yellow, moist, sugary ones) too while they're plentiful. All sweet potatoes have important nutritive value. They are good providers of food energy, a rich source of vitamin A, and also give worthwhile quantities of vitamin C and small amounts of the B vitamins and minerals.

If you have leftover sandwiches, make them appetizing for another meal-by toasting or browning them in a little fat in a skillet.

Start the day with a good breakfast of fruit, fruit or vegetable juice, cereal and milk, an egg, 3 or 4 days a week, and coffee or milk for the beverage. Potatoes prepared in some appetizing way, like hashed brown, are a good breakfast dish, too, especially for those doing heavy or moderately heavy physical work.

Prunes and other dried fruits are delicious when they're cooked until tender, chilled and stuffed with cottage cheese, peanut butter, or grated raw carrots and used in a salad with salad greens and dressing. Dried fruits are in bumper supply.

Storing unused bread, wrapped, in the refrigerator, will keep it fresh and prevent molding.

Don't let the morning milk wait on the doorstep or on the kitchen table after delivery; delay in refrigeration robs milk of food values and hastens spoilage.

This Cream Helps -Skin to Bloom Again

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

MOST OF US take our complexions for granted . . . which isn't as it should be. It shows the strain of wear and tear just as definitely as our bodies. When we are tired, we get some rest. When we're hungry, we eat. When after climbing a flight of stairs we get slightly "out of breath," we immediately pay the medico a visit.

Well the skin gets "out of breath," too, the older we get. It undergoes a chemical change per nature's intricate workings, the same as the body. As we age, our skin gets oxgyen starved and when that happens it begins to look devitalized, dull and its age. How many women get concerned about that?

SPECIAL INGREDIENT ADDED

One of the better scientific creams has just had a change of formula and now boasts the exclusive inclusion of modern chemistry's two important developments in beauty science. None of the original ingredients were removed or changed . . . but a special ingredient has been added to make it even more effective in helping women in the upper decades achieve a happier-looking more vibrant skin.

The purpose of this new ingredient is to release vital oxygen into the base of the outer skin . . . to replenish its oasis from which outer skin dewyness comes . . . so that it won't be "out of breath." This intake of oxygen . . . via this cream . . . supplies moisture, supplements the natural oils of the outer skin . . . melts away roughness . . . and thus helps the skin to achieve an even smoother, more youthfully alive look . . . the look we all admire in a younger woman.

A scientific cream of an estrogenic complex . . . it contains that all-important equivalent of a body substance which is abundant in youth . . . but which decreases as birthdays mount up. The estrogenic complex . . . so vital to the skin glands . . . is absorbed into the skin, actively working on the inner skin to produce a firmer, finer more charming complexion.

APPLY AT NIGHT

With these two highly effective ingredients working co-operatively, actively on both the inner and the outer skin . . . nature is aided and abetted and the complexion's vitality doesn't become a diminishing loss with the advance of years.

With the daily replenishing of necessary and natural oils the complexion is perpetually bolstered and birthdays don't have such an easy time of etching their record on the facial expanse.

Let your skin bloom again. Take it out of its slump. Don't acquiesce to the inevitability of time. Women no longer look as old as they feel . . . they look as old as they look. And in this day and age . . . age should be and can be your own secret.

This cream should be applied nightly on the face, neck and hands . . . to work while you sleep . . . to make the morrow's awakening a joy and pleasure. Use it as directed . . . and within a fortnight or a month you should see a glorious improvement in the appearance of your skin. Thousands of women are enjoying the benefits from the use of this amazing new formula cream . . . why not you?

For the name of this inner and outer skin benefiting cream, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 2-4000, any day except Sunday, or write to me, care of the Boston American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Shoes Are Important

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

SHOES tell lots of secrets. They announce whether their wearer has consistent good taste, whether she is neat and trim or careless, whether she is a gullible woman who can be fooled on quality, whether she knows enough about style to realize that it includes comfort and suitability, too.

The shoes a woman wears tell all these things. Shoe styles change just as dress styles do and in the same way, gradually. The well-dressed woman avoids ridiculously extreme shoes, those that don't suit her feet (even though they might look well), shoes that are not appropriate to her costume.

This season she has a wide choice among the new styles and colors. The classic d'Orsay pump is still in first place. New touches are its V-cut instep, its Frenchified curved heel, its bit of scrollwork at the front. The ankle-strap sandal has been modified by slender double straps that embrace the ankle close to the foot and intricate lace-like patterns over the instep. The walking shoe is no longer perfectly flat to the ground.

Giant Lobby for Marshall Plan Kindles Congress Probe Threat

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—Two lobbyists of the multi-billion dollar Marshall Plan, each paid $1000 a month, prepared today to launch one of the most intensive propaganda campaigns in American history to win Congressional approval.

As the two formally registered as lobbyists with the House and Senate, opponents of the Marshall Plan promised an investigation of the organization setup for the avowed purpose of having America finance Europe.

The lobbyists, who officially disclosed their salaries as $1000 a month and other expenses, are:

John H. Ferguson, former assistant to the undersecretary of state and former assistant to the president of the World Bank.

Harold Stein, recently resigned from the President's Office of Mobilization and Reconversion.

WILL BLANKET NATION

Backed by a membership which reads like a blue book of international bankers, lawyers, industrialists, exporters and one-worlders, they have established offices here, and in New York in Suite 4416, Empire State Bldg. By Jan. 1, they said, they will have branches in every community in the U. S.

Closely affiliated with the State Dept. and embassies of nations which would benefit through the 16 and 20 billion dollar grants, they plan a series of entertainments and a barrage of propaganda.

"We intend to look into this thing very closely," said Rep. Chenoweth (R.) of Colorado, chairman of a special subcommittee appointed to investigate lobbies in which the State Dept. may participate.

RAPS DO-GOODERS

"This is really big business, the biggest we have ever seen. It is made up of a bunch of one-world do-gooders and selfish interests who would have the American people finance the sales of their products or pull their chestnuts out of the fire."

If this committee does not have ample authority to conduct an investigation, Rep. Busbey (R.) of Illinois, said he would ask Congress for it, probably late this week when President Truman formally submits the Marshall Plan.

"I think the American people are entitled to know the motives of those who are backing this propaganda with large sums of money," Representative Busbey stated.

Plane Crash

Westover to Goose Bay will take five hours, officials said. At Goose Bay the dismantled helicopter will be resembled and flown to the crash scene.

Maj. Gen. William T. Tunner made the arrangements at Westover Field immediately. He said extra crews would make the quick flight north, including the regular C-82 crew, the helicopter crew and a medical and supply crew, to aid the survivors at the scene, if necessary.

Goose Bay is the largest RCAF base which offers an alternative landing place for transports on the transatlantic run bound for the Gander base in Newfoundland. While occupied by the RCAF, it has a large U. S. Air Force contingent, organized to service this leg of ATC's European service.

The base is built on a 300-foot sand dune in mountainous territory along the Hamilton river, which flows into Hamilton inlet. Circling the area is the weather-breaking Garey mountains.

There is no land connection between Goose bay and populated regions, and at this time of year the base is inaccessible by sea.

Goose Bay also is a base for search and rescue operations. Its search facilities include planes, boats and overland dogsled units.

Oklahoma Aairplane Crashes Kills 3

KONAWA, Okla., Dec. 10 (AP)—Three men were killed today in a pre-dawn airplane crash near here.

Raymond Reed of the Reed Flying Service at Wewoka reported the small plane took off from three for Duncan at 5 a. m. The crash occurred a short time later. The Plane burned.

Two of the dead were named by the Oklahoma highway patrol as Ollie Bon Martin, Prague, Okla., and C. S. Tucker, Wewoka, Okla. The third man was not immediately identified.

U. S. GETS PANAMA BASES

PANAMA, Dec. 10 (AP)—President Enrique Adolfo Jimenez said a provisional agreement under which Panama would lease 13 defense bases to the U. S. would be signed today.

Forger's Choice Brings Jail Term

TORONTO, Dec. 10 (INS)—A Yale graduate who "chose to be a thief rather than a beggar" was sentenced to two years in prison on three fraud charges involving $118. He is William B. Davis, 58, who stated he was graduated as an electrical engineer from Yale in 1913. Police said Davis cashed several forged checks in Toronto after stealing check blanks and letterheads in Buffalo.

Davis told Police Magistrate Gullen: "It's hard for a man of my age to get work. I had to decide whether to be a thief, or whether to be a tramp and beg. I chose the former."

3 Top Film Attractions Holdovers for Next Week

Three of Hollywood's most fantastically exploited film productions . . . the Danny Kaye-starring "Secret Life of Walter Mitty," Cecil B. DeMille's Cooper-Goddard co-starrer, "Unconquered," and Metro's "Green Dolphin Street," with Lana Turner . . . are remaining through the week on local screens.

The Samuel Goldwyn Technicolor comedy co-starring Kaye and Virginia Mayo today begins a third week at Keith Memorial Theater.

DeMille's adventure epic, with Gary Cooper and Paulette Goddard heading a cast of thousands, will commence a second week at the Paramount and Fenway Theaters tomorrow. The plot stems from the "Pontiac Conspiracy," in which thousands of savage Indians attempted to exterminate America's white civilization.

At Loew's twin houses, the Orpheum and the State, "Green Dolphin Street," based on MGM's $200,000 prize novel contest winner, and the Technicolorful Royal Wedding production will remain for a third and final week.

An Operatic Burlesque

"Opera To End All Operas," the half-hour long operatic burlesque to be presented at the New England Opera Theater dinner in the Copley-Plaza ballroom Sunday at 7:30 p. m., was directed by Boris Goldovsky, who also wrote the libretto. The world's great composers provided the score.

Heading the cast are Eunice Alberts, Mildred Mueller, Norman Foster, Adele Addison, Arthur Senoep, Luigi Vellucci, Margaret Goldovsky and Zula Mekelatos.

Tufts Presents Three Drama Classics Thursday

Tufts College drama students will produce three one-act plays in Jackson Gymnasium Theater tomorrow night at 8:30. The plays are Tennessee Williams' "Lady of The Larkspur Lotion," George Bernard Shaw's "Dark Lady of the Sonnets" and Anton Chekhov's "The Marriage Proposal." Admission is free.

BEAUTIFUL Maureen O'Hara, who will be seen in "To the Shores of Tripoli," due for revival showing on the Center Theater screen on Friday.

How Moscow Recruits New Communists

By AUSTEN LAKE

AS ONE WHO RECENTLY looked Communism straight in the larynx in France and Germany I will beg five minutes of your favor to tell what makes free men Bolshiviks and how they are recruited.

Communism feeds on hard times, discontented masses, an economy of scarcity, low-living standards, unemployment, strikes and political dissension. It fattens on disaster. Which is why, of course, Moscow does not want the Marshall plan and why France and Italy are boiling with labor unrest. For prosperity is Communism's poison. In times of plenty, production and job opportunities Communism withers on the national stalk. Good times exterminates Communism like arsenic destroys parasites.

Therefore it is to Communist advantage to plunge the world, including this nation, into economic chaos and to prevent labor, management and industry from co-operating in a mutual program of production, consumer capacity and fluid wealth which would lead to an economy of plenty. That would be Communism's arsenic.

But to prevent prosperity with interlaced strikes, to force work stoppages and political confusion is Communism's food and fat. This is the Soviet formula for recruiting new members from the distressed masses. Well isn't it?

Never Lets Up on Lieing Propaganda

BOTH AS A REPORTER and observer this writer has watched Communism's steady march through Europe by means of falsehood and sly infiltration in key labor positions. Their powerful radio stations at Berlin, Liepzig and Moscow pour torrents of lying propaganda the clock around, to which we make little or no answer.

A few weeks ago in Paris I talked with numbers of French wrokers who formed a fair cross section of labor opinion. I found them confused over strike issues and overwhelmed by futility. They believed that the proper time to demand more wages and work concessions was when their country recovered from its war exhaustion and stepped up production potentials to meet the vast consumer needs. Then, they said, when France was on the up-slopes of prosperity, is the time to tell management and government, "Now we are approaching production peaks. You have large backlogs of orders. We want a share in this prosperity which we helped to create."

It made sense! French industry couldn't refuse. It would be to its advantage to pay in proportion as it produces goods and thus expands consumer capacity. The more it creates the more it pays and the more people have to spend for goods and the greater the spiral of prosperity.

But Communism doesn't want that either in Europe or the United States. That would be to smother the arguments in favor of Communism because the masses would be too busy and too contented to heed radical persuasion in favor of leftist control.

So what Communism wants is confusion, discontent, factional bickerings and class quarrels, because only then can it say, "See! Democracy doesn't work. You have money but it won't buy anything. You are hungry and ragged amid plenty. But under Communism the wealth is equally controlled and shared."

Germany the Horrible Example

THUS GULLIBLE PEOPLE whose votes are just as potent as those of reasoning people snatch at any new political dogma, however radical which promises a cure—just as Hitler and Fascism, which is a step-sister to Communism, offered the discontented masses of Germany a political panacea which they gobbled. At the time anything seemed better than the economy of scarcity under which they lived. Hitler's "social democracy" sounded fine.

But very soon the German people found they had submitted to a militant monopoly under which their every little act was subject to state control. It was Communism, or totalitarianism, or political imperialism, or Fascism, or whatever other lines it hid behind. But its real name was "Oppression."

Communism, both here and abroad, is incubated in adversity and thrives on confusion. In America today it appears as an incipient, minor microbe. Yet actually it is a more virulent infection than most easy-going Americans realize. Since war ended a handful of self-willed union leaders has whipsawed this nation with overlapping strikes, each timed shrewdly to follow the other and to continue industrial and economic stagnation.

Was it for the love of their union leaders? For each succeeding strike threw neighboring union sts out of work for lack of raw materials and essential parts. The auto workers couldn't get steel so their men were laid off. Then the steel workers couldn't get coal, so independent industries closed. It was the same system by which radical labor leaders in France and Italy seek to paralyze their nations' economy. Whether wilfully or ignorantly they work for the greater power and glory of the Communist party whose one aim is to develop discontent, hardship and scarcity which is the evil fertilizer from which the ugly weed growth of Communism sprouts.

Spence Returns to Red Sox

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Washington Senators today traded centerfielder Stan Spence to the Boston Red Sox for outfielder Leon Culberson and Al Kozar, a second baseman who was with New Orleans of theSouthern Association last year.

The deal between the two American League Clubs was reported to have involved no cash.

Spence hit .279 for Washington in 147 games during the past season and has been widely sought since it was learned that President Clark Griffith of the Senators had him on the block.

Culberson, one of several right fielders used by the Red Sox the past year, hit .238 in 47 games.

Happy Joins Move to Add 4 Coast Teams

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Commissioner A. B. Chandler joined the major leagues today in endorsing the long-range plan to bring in four teams of the Pacific Coast League for the purpose of expanding each major league from eight to 10 teams.

The commissioner is very much for the idea. This was learned from a reliable source yesterday. In fact, the commissioner, who was a member of the five-man committee which visited the coast last August, intends to bring it up for discussion at the joint major league meeting tomorrow.

Along with the National and American Leagues, Chandler is of the opinion that the 10-club plan is the most practical and could be accomplished with the "least trouble to baseball."

Actually only the National League owners touched on the coast league problem yesterday as the three-day winter meetings began. They discussed the circuit's three-year plea for recognition as a third major league and took a vote on it.

Although league president Ford Frick declined to reveal the decision, saying that it could not be announced until after the joint session, it was learned that the senior circuit rejected both PCL requests.

They agreed the first request, for major league status as a unit, was "not practical" and the alternate request for major-minor classification was "out of order."

The American League, which will delve into the Pacific Coast League matter today, is expected to take pretty much the same action.

Cards Study Braves' Bid

By JOE CASHMAN

NEW YORK, Dec. 10—Trade negotiations between the Braves and St. Louis Cardinals remained in the category of unfinished business as this was written.

The Cards asked for more time to consider the matter. Latest word from the Tribal camp is that the proposed swap will be completed or the idea abandoned in the next 24 hours.

Meanwhile, speculation as to the players involved increases and already touches virtually every prominent member of both clubs.

Braves players most ffequently mentioned are Phil Masi and Tommy Holmes but the name of every outstanding Warrior, except Warren Spahn and Bob Elliott, has been entered in the guessing contest.

The Cardinals thought to be destined for transfer from St. Louis to Boston include such luminaries as pitchers "Red" Munger or Murry Dickson; outfielders Enos Slaughter or Erv Dusak and catchers Del Rice or Joe Garagiola.

Braves bosses are admitting or denying nothing. They merely say the deal, if it goes through, will be a big one. The Cards' spokesmen are keeping mum.

Manager Billy Southworth has repeatedly stated he wouldn't trade Spahn, Elliott, Earl Torgeson, Al Dark or Johnny Sain. The Cards reportedly won't listen to any offers for Munger, Slaughter, Dusak, Stan Musial or "Red" Schoendienst.

"Anything can happen in baseball. Ruth and Grove and Speaker, Hornsby and Frisch and Gordon were traded," say the boys who are trying to figure out who will change uniforms in the event this transaction is completed.

The Braves are entirely satisfied with the proposition, whatever it is. The decision is up to the Cardinals. As far as is known, Manager Eddie Dyer of the Mound City crew is willing to make the trade. Nothing can be done without the approval of Bob Hannegan, and the new president of the Red Birds hasn't yet made up his mind.

The only bet this writer would make is that Phil Masi will go to St. Louis and the Braves will receive a top flight outfielder in exchange, providing the deal is complete.

The Cards confess they arn't interested in trading unless they can acquire a standout receiver, while the Braves frankly admit they're after a star fly-chaser, preferably a right-handed batswings left handed which would not worry the Braves if they could ter of proven defensive ability as a centerfielder. Dusak meets the latter requirements. Slaughter get him, but that is unlikely. Ron Northey, another left-hander, is a possibility.

The Braves would want a catcher to replace Masi and probably could get Del Rice. The Cards would want an outfielder to offset their garden loss and hardly would be satisfied with anybody but Holmes.

The swap of Masi and Holmes for Rice and either Dusak or Northey, if such is contemplated, would leave the Braves shortchanged. There'd have to be more to the deal, say the inclusion of a winning St. Louis pitcher for one of the second-string Boston boxmen.

SHELLENBACK TO MANAGE MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 10 (AP)—Frank Shellenback, former coach for the Detroit Tigers, st. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox baseball teams, today was named manager of the Minneapolis club of the American Ass'n.

William "Rosy" Ryan, general manager of the Millers, made the announcement by telephone from New York, where he has been conferring with officials of the New York Giants, owners of the Millers.

Shellenback has been coaching at Detroit for the last three seasons. He managed San Diego of the Pacific Coast League for five seasons, 1934 to 1938, after a long pitching career.

Big Dan Selects Zanelli, at 32, To Whip Greco

By JACK CONWAY

DAN CARROLL, before his departure today for his winter home at Miami, Fla., left a few bobs with a friend to be wagered on Ralph Zanelli to win from Johnny Greco of Montreal in their 10-round bout at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden on Monday night . . . I saw Greco knock out Tony Janiro before a capacity crowd in the New York Garden . . . Greco also has wins to his credit over Beau Jack, Harold Green, Bobby Ruffin, Danny Webb and other first-class fighting men.

Ralph Zanelli

Greco was to check into Boston today . . . The Montreal welterweight is an aggressive, two-handed puncher . . . Zanelli, at the age of 32, recently turned in two victories over Al (Red) Priest.

Jersey Joe Walcott won so many friends by his impressive showing against Joe Louis that he will likely get 20 per cent of the receipts when he boxes the "Bomber" for the title in their million dollar show at the Yankee Stadium in June . . . Louis will receive 40 per cent . . . With a million dollars in the box office, Louis will get $400,000 and Walcott $200,000 . . . The rival heavyweights will receive the same percentage of the radio and television rights of the contest, and also of the movies . . . These rights will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Livio Minelli, European welterweight champion who meets William Odom of New York for the Dempsey A. A. at Mechanics Building on Friday night, has won 103 straight bouts . . . Minelli has scored nine of his victories in bouts in his country . . . Jimmy Mede has reduced the price for his shows to a $2 top plus tax.

It was a feeling of disgust over his own poor showing against Jersey Joe Walcott that caused Joe Louis to start to leave the ring before the decision was given . . . Louis has attributed his desire to leave the ring quickly to his injured right hand . . . At the time Joe thought his hand was broken, but it has since been found that the "Bomber's" right duke suffered only bruises.

Johnny Shkor Offered Miami Bout

JOHNNY SHKOR has been offered a bout with Manuel Gomez of Tampa, Fla., early in January at Miami . . . Francis Albertanti was in charge of the ballyhoo from Jersey Joe Walcott's camp . . . Albertanti is one of the most successful public relations experts in the country . . . He was with Jimmy Braddock as the latter trained for Max Baer, and he named Braddock to win the championship.

George R. Canty, a career man in the State Department, will sail for his new post at Berne, Switzerland, early in January . . . Canty was U. S. Consul at Amsterdam at the time the Germans captured that city . . . He remained in Amsterdam until this country entered the war, and was then assigned to a post in the Argentine . . . Canty's home was originally in Boston.

Walter Brown says he is still hopeful that professional basketball will click in Boston . . . College and school basketball does well here when proper attractions are offered.

"Tam" Sheehan of Dorchester is being congratulated on his election to the position of first vice-president of the National AAU . . . "Tam" is president of the New England body.

Eddie Martin to Be President of Raynham

EDDIE MARTIN, who has been one of Russ Murray's able lieutenants, will succeed the late William Ensign as president of the Raynham Park dog track . . . The selection of Martin is in line with Murray's policy of placing personnel of known ability in key positions at the track . . . Martin saw service with the Navy at Okinawa during the war.

MAKE PLANS TO AID DISTRESSED BOXERS

Taking the first big strides for the protection and welfare of the veteran boxer, the New England Boxing Benevolent and Protective Ass'n met last night at the Parker House to discuss means of establishing a fund that will care for distressed fighters.

It was brought out at the meeting that similar organizations now in effect in Philadelphia, California and other states, are protecting their disabled boxers, and that it is time for New England to fall into line. It hopes to educate the newcomers in providing for themselves.

Present at the meeting were president of the organization, John Ford, Tansy Norton, Walter Butler, Joseph Geary, John McCarthy, William Rolphe and Mike Cullen. Also voicing several plans as to how to raise the needed money was Fight Promoter Sam Silverman, Boxing Commissioner Sam Flaxman, and Jim Perry.

Holy Cross Dazzling In First Hub Showing

By FRED HOEY

In a basketball game which at times was dazzling and most bewildering to the fans as well as to the opponents, the great Holy Cross squad, National Collegiate A. A. champions posted their 25th straight win at the expense of highly touted Valparaiso when they registered an 80-45 win in the first game of a twin bill last night at the Garden.

B. U. upset Harvard 52 to 36 in the other end of the doubleheader.

The finesse and deception of the Crusaders early in the game was something to behold. One gathered the illusion that the ball was on a string, so sure the Worcester boys were of their passes and with almost constant possession of the ball.

The boys from the banks of the Wabash were clearly outclassed as the Holy Cross attempted everything in their repertoire.

After the Crusaders had pulled their fancy Dan stuff in the first period which thoroughly amazed the crowd, the boys from Worcester settled down to a more conservative game. Occasionally they tried a backward pass or a feint shot, but for the most part they matched Valparaiso with good sound basketball and held the lead from the start.

The score at half time was Holy Cross 35-21. So when the Crusaders settled down to conservative basketball without the extra flurries they gathered 45 points in the closing half.

Joe Mullaney, the Long Island, N. Y., boy whose set shots kept his team in the National Collegiate A. A. when he singlehanded beat the Navy, had another of his brilliant nights. His long set shots were marvellous in their execution. It just seemed as though Joe couldn't miss when once he had the ball and got the gauge of the basket. Mullaney gathered seven baskets and six fouls but his spectacular work from the floor was confined to the first half. George Kaftan, the All-America center, picked up 14 points while Bob Cousey was the star of the second half when he registered five baskets and two free tries to boost his total to 15 points.

Ted Bean of Valparaiso equalled a Garden record when he popped in nine free tries without a miss. He now shares the record with Dick Hole of Rhode Island State and Elmer Morgenthaler, formerly of Boston College.

The only new man Holy Cross introduced was Matt Formon who saw but little action a year ago. Matt speedily fitted into Coach "Doggie" Julian's scheme of play and may be another outstanding Holy Cross player before the season concludes.

Except for a couple of local games around Worcester the Crusaders will be saving their ammunition for the Dartmouth game at the Garden on Dec. 20 when they share a twin bill. In the other game that night Harvard meets Boston College.

Clearly outplayed from start to finish Harvard had to bite the dirt at the hands of a well coached Boston University team when the Terriers posted a 52-36 victory.

The teams appeared fairly evenly matched toward the close of the first half when Harvard trailed 26 to 25 but in the closing session Coach Russ Peterson's men really went to work.

This well rounded BU team knew all the answers in the second half. They realized that anybody who could keep Harvard Capt. George Hauptfuhrer well covered would make it much easier for themselves. This certainly was proved in the second half when the 6.4 center was held scoreless from the floor by George Winkler.

Skimobile Now Enlarged For Cranmore Opening

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

NORTH CONWAY, N. H., Dec. 10—Cranmore Mountain, one of the East's most famous schuss spots, is ready for its official winter opening next Saturday, and skiers riding the unique Skimobile may think they're "seeing double," for 30 twin-seated, aluminum cars have been added to the lower section of this conveyance.

On the upper tracks, 15 cars have been added, while $50,000 worth of other expenditures, involving motors, generators, more powerful gears, magnetic controls, and protective devices will double the capacity of the Skimobile.

Thus, the management of Cranmore is keeping in stride with the ever-expanding sport of skiing. During the height of the season, more than 12,000 ski these slopes and trails in a week, and Hannes Schneider, director of the Eastern Slope Ski School, estimates that there are now at least three-quarters of a million skiers in New England!

On Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, there will be two lines from which skiers will board the Skimobile cars, those in each line hopping on alternate cars. One queue will be reserved for holders of full-day tickets, and these will be limited to a maximum number, allowing little or no waiting.

Under Skimeister Schneider's supervision, a new run, called The Beginner Trail, has been slashed through the woods at the right of the south slope—looking up—and is one mile in length, with a 40-foot width. The trail commences near the halfway station. It is a most necessary addition to the vast development, since there seem to be too few places for novices in this age of speed.

QUICK CHRISTIES: "This should be another record season," stated Lester Sprague, manager of the large Eastern Slope Inn. "Our advance bookings are heavy, with many folks coming from distant parts of the country." . . . Energetic Margaret Harris has done her usual fine job in editing the latest issue of the Regionnaire, but she's too busy to ski!

For advanced skiers, we recommend Dick Stimpson's Intervale area, where the steep slope now offers a trail and a small jump, as well as a warming hut at its foot . . . Up in Pinkham Notch, Charley Boutcher will again operate his nice tow set-up. This site attracts snow like a sort of magnet, and good skiing was found there well into April last spring.

Heading the Eastern Slope Ski Club is Carroll Reed, the man really responsible for booming this region over a decade ago. Races sponsored by the club will be the Gibson Trophy slaloms, Feb. 1; and the American Inferno, from the top to bottom of Mt. Washington, April 11. . . . Everyone here is rooting for Paula Kann to win at the Olympic Winter Games, in Switzerland . . . Those new Skimobile twin-seaters are called "Honeymoon Cars."

Celtics Play Knicks Here

The Celtics have an excellent chance to regain the top tie in the Eastern Division, a position they held for one day last week, when they meet the New York Knickerbockers at Boston Garden tonight.

While the Celtics were idle after reaching the top last week, the Knicks smothered Providence and the St. Louis Bombers to go into a full game lead over Honey Russell's men.

The rivalry between the Boston and New York teams is most intense. They have divided their two game series. The Knicks won in Boston, 91-75, but the Celtics grabbed the game in New York, 65-63.

The one New York player who will bear constant watching is Carl Braun, who scored 47 points in New York's 114-85 win over Providence.

The three veterans who steady the Knicks are Stan Stutz, Tommy Byrnes and Leo Gottlieb. The younger players are John Palmer, Princeton; Dick Holub, Long Island U.; Bill Koff, Princeton; Paul Noel, Kentucky; Lee Knorek, Detroit U., and Ray Kuka, Notre Dame.

Coach Russell will start the same squad that has won three of their last four games, Saul Mariaschin, Ed Sadowski, league's scoring leader, Dutch Gard Garfinkle, Art Spector and Mel Riebe.

Crimson Six Faces Tough Task To Beat Bevins in Terrier Nets

Boston University's high scoring New England intercollegiate ice champs will square off tonight at the Arena in a non-league fray with a potent sextet from Harvard.

Coach Harry Cleverly's sextet will get a real test as they match goals with the scoring wares of the Cantabs. Harvard, in its opener last week, dropped a rugged Boston College six, 4 to 3.

"It is not news to say that my team is doing very well up to now," commented Cleverly, "but, we have a long, long road ahead of us and what we do against Harvard tonight will determine how tough the road will be."

Bevinse is a hard man to beat. He has poise and it is very seldom that he is "beaten" on a close up shot. Much of the success of the Harvard battle depends upon the capabilities of the B. U. netminder.

All-Scholastic Eleven To Be Named Saturday

By BOB WALDO

Saturday will be the long awaited day for local high school football players and their ardent followers! That will be the day (Dec. 13) for the release of the Boston Evening American's Official All-Scholastic football team selected by a board of coaches that is comprised of 10 leading mentors in Eastern Massachusetts.

Although there are still a few minor details that must be straightened out before the team is made public, this much can be said. It is considered by the board as one of the best balanced clubs in several years, one that any college coach would be happy to field for his opening 1948 game.

It took a verbal slugfest that consumed better than five hours before the final selections were made. More than 100 boys were discussed before the field narrowed down to a point where secret ballots could be taken when the possibility of oral selection was eliminated.

Members of the annual board included: Dennie Gildea, Everett; Harry Downes, Brookline; Glenn O'Brien, Salem; George Kennealy, Revere; Mark Devlin, Lawrence; Bill Ohrenberger, Boston School Dept.; Bill Cronin, Hingham; Dave Gavin, Melrose, and Henry Toczylowski, Arlington. Also a member for the first time was Fred Murray of Roslindale, who took over the spot left vacant by the retiring "Skip" Sherlock.

Every position on the team was bitterly contested, and only one spot was filled by a unanimous vote. Only one high school was represented by more than one player, and that by two. It is an all around representation of all Eastern Massachusetts, with the various school naming members well scattered throughout this section.

The forward wall proved the most difficult problem for the judges. Although not usually the case, outstanding linemen far exceeded the backs. More than 50 men were candidates for the positions between the ends when the coaches began their voting.

Selections for the tackle and guard berths required the most time, as the voting in each case was extremely tight between several top-notch performers.

However, the "dream" team has been selected, and it will be published, complete with pictures and detailed story, in Saturday's Boston Evening American.

Order your Saturday edition early so that you won't miss the official All-Scholastic team for the 1947 season.

Experts Smart Seers - - Leahy

Head Coach, Notre Dame University

At the end of each season it is interesting to check back on the results of preseason predictions. Many things tend to upset the best laid calculations of gridiron soothsayers. Injuries to key players generally take the heaviest toll. The past season, however, ran pretty true to form.

Let's snap back to September. The grid prophets split about even in predicting things to come in the Mid-West. They said Michigan was the team to beat for Big Nine honors. They said Illinois and Ohio State would be dangerous.

Michigan romped, going through untied and undefeated and into the Rose Bowl against Southern California. Wisconsin finished well after being picked to place far down the list.

Notre Dame was placed in a frightening position. Story after story said our lads would be the greatest in the nation. Our boys did all right, undefeated, untied in nine games. That's enough for me. But let's forget the great stuff.

Pennsylvania was chosen to win the Ivy title. They did. A tie with Army was the only taint on an otherwise perfect record. But how about Penn State? Bob Higgins' boys had a perfect season. They played their way into the Cotton Bowl. How can any one prove that Pennsylvania is a greater team than Penn State? They would have to collide, man to man, to settle the question. So would Notre Dame and Michigan.

Rice was the big noise in the Southwest with Texas ranking next. What happened? Matty Bell at Southern Methodist took top honors. Texas Christian tied SMU to deprive the Mustangs of being letter-perfect. Texas lost by only one point to SMU, so the prophets were not far off the scent.

The prophets hit it right on the snout on the Coast. They said it would be a race between Southern California and California. It turned out exactly that way, with the Trojans having the edge by walloping the Golden Bears.

All in all, the prophets had a good year. So did football. Let's hope next season will be equally as dramatic and thrilling.

Medford's Cripples Will Be Ready

By MIKE GILLOOLY

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 10—Gino Pagluica's elbow bruise will be well padded to enable him to play; John Regan's injured ankle will respond to whirl-bath treatments; Ed Field's irritable tonsils have been painted out of the picture. And now, moving into the final stop-over on the journey to Jacksonville, the Medford Mustangs have only to worry about defensive setups to stop the Robert E. Lee eleven, State champion of Florida, in the floodlight game Friday night.

Scouting reports, seeing the entire East coast via air mail, were to reach Coach Tom O'Connor today after having by-passed the party when originally sent from Florida.

According to telephone information, the opposition will be running the majority of its plays from a short kick formation, a fact that has Assistant Coach Marty Donovan racking his brain to dig out plays from this style of attack to throw at the varsity. Then, too, there's a pet play of the Lee's that involves lengthy passes which will be attempting to cover 40-50 yards at a crack.

Another point that caused some bit of consternation on the party was the fact that officials for the game had already been named. Coach O'Connor's telegram request that two Navy men be appointed met with the curt reply that this important (in the South) point had already been attended.

GINO PAGLUICA
Will Play With Padded Shoulder

The trio of mishaps made up the conversational point of the hop from the gracious Naval Academy at Annapolis to Columbia, S. C.

Pagluica's elbow injury will have more padding than a department store Santa Claus, as well as a special support made up by Navy's trainer, Billy F. Allon of Roxbury. It was one of the pesty type of elbow bruises that caused pain and swelling but had been practically negligible—"Not worth mentioning," said Gino—until he tried to put it to good use in practice.

The 195-pound fullback sustained the blow in the All-Star game at Manning Bowl, Lynn, last Sunday.

Regan, injured in scrimmage, responded nicely to the treatment of Trainer Fallon and he'll be ready any time.

Field's tonsilitis attack (hardly enough to keep him away from the mess table with the Middies) was treated in plenty of time to avoid any complications. He was just as happy and merry as the rest of the players all the way along on their special bus ride into the Capital.

At the University of South Carolina, the team was accorded another grand reception by Coach Rex Enright and his flock of assistants. Undoubtedly, they'd show the state champion Mustangs plenty of southern hospitality with the hope that some of the boys might like to return for a furtherance of education (and a splattering of football) next fall.

Trinity Back Forced to Quit

HARTFORD, Ct., Dec. 10 (AP)—A physician's orders have terminated the football career of Harold (Hal) Heintz, star halfback of the Trinity College Football team for the past two years.

Heintz received a concussion of the brain in the third period of the Wesleyan game last Nov. 15 and spent several days in the hospital under observation. He also received two slight concussions while playing on the Hartford Public High School team and the combination of these three injuries prompted his personal physician to call a halt to the star's gridiron career.

Heintz, a junior, was Trinity's top ball carrier this season with a total of 483 yards gained for an average of about eight yards per carry. He also scored five touchdowns.

A baseball regular, Heintz will continue in the diamond sport, a college spokesman said.

Jersey Bounce Made Joe Louis Easy to Hit

By LEWIS BURTON
New York Journal-American Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 10—If Jersey Joe Walcott ran away exclusively, as Joe Louis' agents are red-herringing, who knocked the champion on his bustle twice, closed his left eye, bloodied his nose, cut up the inside of his mouth, puffed his upper lip, feinted him into knots, tied him up like a Christmas gift, tossed him into the ropes like a medicine ball? Margaret O'Brien?

Louis is world's champion right now because two judges, Marty Monroe and Frenk Forbes, suffered from a mental block. Instead of Walcott going into a deep freeze, they did. Their faculties were unprepared to accept the visual evidence of Joe's defeat. They had lived too long with his greatness, worshipped too long at the shrine of his invincibility, rebelled inwardly at the conception that his doomsday could ever come.

Nor were they alone. It isn't difficult to understand that mood in them or in others. A young man of 21 in our office told me he heard the developments over the radio but couldn't, and didn't want, to believe them. All his life it seemed there was only one great fighter, only one heavyweight champion, and here they were destroying the world he had come to believe in.

Life has become infinitely more complicated for Louis as a result of L'affaire Walcott. He could have retired a week ago. Now we can't, at least until the record is straightened out, one way or the other. His face would turn pink every time he was introduced as "retired undefeated heavyweight champion of the world."

There would always be boos.

I would hate their sound. My pinnards flipflopped when I heard Louis jeered leaving the ring last Friday, even though my scorecard gave it to Walcott by eight rounds to six, with one even. Louis wasn't responsible for the decision, though he's undoubtedly grateful for it. He has been too grand a person, too furious a killer, too wonderful "copy" to be scorned or hooted for one failure.

There was much immature thinking about this fight before it took place, and the epidemic is continuing. I can take the liberty of being hypercritical in the matter because I insisted in print for a long while that Walcott was the No. 1 contender.

A great many fighters and managers have been foolishly emboldened by the Bomber's relative inefficacy against Walcott. But the facts have not changed as regards them. Certainly, Louis is slipping, but Joe Baksi, Gus Lesnevich and Olle Tandberg were absolutely right when they stood him last summer.

Joe is still a cinch to knock out any heavyweight in the world other than Walcott.

You have to go into the life story of Walcott to understand why. He was always a good boxer and a hard hitter. But very often those qualities are liabilities for Negro fighters. Jersey Joe had no free-spending sponsor. He didn't eat regularly and he developed no particular appetite for boxing as a substitute.

It seems that prizefighting was, for many years, just a way for Walcott to earn a few bucks—one of a large variety of odd jobs. He probably felt very badly about being fired as Louis' sparring partner for being too fast and making Joe miss too badly back in May, 1936, at Lakewood.

Poverty forced his retirement. Poverty, plus the bribe of a ton of coal to keep his family warm, drew him out. His new proprietor, thereafter saw to it that Jersey Joe and his family regularly had three squares a day.

Jersey Joe had found a sugar daddy. He began to sharpen up the old weapons. He had more ups than downs. He beat Baksi, Bivins, Ray, Gomez, Maxim, Murray, Oma and Sheppard. Mauriello wanted no part of him. He finally got the Louis match and for the first time in his life he went away to a training camp occupied by himself and entourage alone.

At last, Walcott's working conditions approximated that of a champion. So Jersey Joe went into the best ring condition relative to his age that he had ever achieved, against a man he felt he could beat.

After it was over, they said Walcott had clowned, run away and scored with sucker punches. Except for the fact that "run away" accurately covers Jersey Joe's planned withdrawal in the final round, the choice of terms is an unhappy one.

To what extent did Walcott clown? He tantalized Louis with constant feinting of his left hand, his shoulders and his head. He drew him into leads and quickly backed away. He angered the champion and, as Ray Robinson once observed, it's a bad thing to get angry in a fight.

Was Walcott's shift a sucker punch? He feinted Louis' guard down with his left. He pulled back and drew the Brown Bomber into a left lead, and he countered over that left with a hard right to the jaw. He did it deliberately; he did it often. I don't recall anyone else employing it as well since Billy Petrolle. I saw Benny Leonard use it. There aren't any others around who make it work.

It's just possible that Walcott, given the past three years of his boxing life ten years ago, would have been equally dangerous for Louis. There's no rule against winning a fight by making the other man come to you. Louis has said he prefers it that way. It takes a smart fighter to make the other guy do it. Walcott's no dope.

Bruins Play Blackhawks

CHICAGO, Dec. 10—The crippled Boston Bruins were here today to meet the bolstered Blackhawks, who belie their lowly position in the league standings.

Injuries have forced the Bruins to leave three of their top stars home, Milt Schmidt, Fern Flaman and Murray Henderson.

The return of Bill Mosienko, a left winger who has been sidelined since the All-Star game Oct. 13 because of a broken ankle, will be playing his first league game of the season.

Woody Dumart a left winger will play on the Bruins' defense since the loss of Flaman has left the team shorthanded in front of goalie Frankie Brimsek.

The fact that the Bruins haven't lost any games during the past two weeks, though they haven't been able to do much registering in the win column, can be traced directly to the Brimsek, who has regained his pre-war form. With two shutouts and tied with Bill Durnan of the Canadiens in quest for the Vezina Trophy, Brimsek has carried the riddled Bruins almost single-handed.

The Hawks will be out the services of Gus Bodnar, newly acquired left winger who will be sidelined for three weeks because of a deep cut in his right instep, suffered in a game against Toronto last Sunday.

BOUCHER BRINGS OTTAWA HERE SATURDAY

"The Old War Horse" of hockey, George "Buck" Boucher, will lead his smooth-working Ottawa Senators into the Garden Saturday night for the second time this season to face Hago Harrington's rugged Olympics. The following afternoon, the Pics will face Mel Harwood's Atlantic City Sea Gulls, which means another fast, rugged Eastern League affair.

It will be the fourth meeting between the Senators and Olympics with the Ottawa outfit holding an edge in games, two to one. Boucher's club, currently sharing the top berth in the Q. S. H. L. with Shawinigan Falls Cataracts, and the Olympics are well-rested, neither having played a league fixture since last Sunday.

Ottawa forwards have dominated the top scoring positions so far this season, and the Bantowners will have to play their best hockey if they intend topping Georgie Greene, top pntgetter, Jack Irvine, Stu Smith, Alex Smart, and the other high-scoring Ottawa skater.

Mustangs Work Out

Members of the Medford High School football team limber up leg muscles as they trot around the practice field of the Naval Academy at Annapolis during their stopover while en route to Jacksonville, Fla., where they will meet Robert E. Lee High School Friday night in the 'Gator Bowl.

Pointers

Ensign Ben Martin end coach for the Navy grid squad goes into a huddle with two of Medford High's flankmen, John Budge (left) and Charlie Bowles, during the Mustangs' practice session at Annapolis. Could be that Ben gave the Medford boys a few pointers in end play.
